Planes Will Carry Women, Children From Danger Area

Six Injured, Consulate Burned In Canton Anti-British Rioting

HONGKONG, Jan. 17 (Saturday) (AP).—Approximately 100 British women and children will be flown to safety from Canton where rioting Chinese mobs yesterday invaded and burned the British Consulate, injured six Britons and threatened a number of Americans.

(The Foreign Office announced in London that Sir Ralph Stevenson, British ambassador in China, had protested to the Chinese Government.)

For three hours the anti-British demonstration gripped the Chinese city which is a few hours away from Hongkong by steamship

Subsequently, Hongkong Airways canceled all scheduled flights to and from Canton for tomorrow in order to use the planes to transport the British women and children.

The demonstrators protested the eviction of 300 of the 2,000 Chinese living in the ancient section of Kowloon, on the mainland of the Hongkong Crown colony The evictions began several days ago after authorities ordered the destruction of shacks on Kowloon for health reasons

British authorities rushed a small naval craft with a group of naval investigators from Hongkong up the shallow Pearl River to Canton.

One account said the naval party would remove all British women and children immediately from the troubled city

In the rioting in the British compound on Shameen Island, the Chinese were said to have burned down the consulate office building and to have destroyed the residence of Consul-General Ronald Hall and his subordinate's home

Reuters News Agency offices, the offices of the British shipping firm of Jardine Matheson and the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China also were reported wrecked or set afire

Conciliation May End Mine Strike

CALGARY, Jan. 16 (CP) The Alberta Government Labor Department moved tonight towards establishment of a conciliation board that would seek settlement of an "unauthorized" strike of coal miners in the province following union agreement to name a representative to the board

Robert Livett, president of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, announced today that the union had made its choice of a representative and had notified the Government of willingness to participate in the proceedings His announcement came as the strike spread to a number of small mines in Alberta and British Columbia with total number of strikers involved now between 8,500 and 10,000.

Operators already had said they would appoint a man to the board proposed by the Government, which has termed the strike illegal

Mackenzie King Likely To State Plans Tuesday

By TOM GREEN

Colonist Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA, Jan. 16—Prime Minister Mackenzie King will announce his retirement this year from the office of Prime Minister when he addresses the advisory committee of the National Liberal Federation in Ottawa on Tuesday night, it was reported tonight in highly authoritative quarters on Parliament Hill.

These usually reliable and well-informed sources said that Mr King will tell his stalwarts that he will give up the mantle as soon as the party has chosen a successor to him for the Liberal leadership The only indication as to the effective date of his resignation is that it definitely will be after Mr King has surpassed Walpole's record on April 7 for the longest tenure in the office of Prime Minister in the British Empire.

The belief is that a national Liberal convention will be convened in Ottawa or Winnipeg in August for the selection of a new leader. Until the convention has been held—whether it be on August 7 or later—it is fully expected that Mr. King will carry on as Prime Minister. A stickler for anniversaries, Mr. King, it is said, would be favorable to August 7, as it was on that date in 1919 when he was chosen at the national Liberal convention in Ottawa to succeed Sir Wilfrid Laurier Holding of a convention in early August would give ample time for the machinery for such a large-scale Federal gathering to complete its organization and for delegates to reach Ottawa

OPPOSES "CARETAKER"

There have been suggestions that Mr. King might name a "caretaker" Prime Minister to discharge these duties between his resignation and a national convention. At various occasions, however, Mr. King has indicated he was opposed to such a course, and that he held the view that the man who took over the party leadership from him should be the choice of a national convention.

That an important announcement is expected is indicated by the fact that every member of the Cabinet, with the exception of Agriculture Minister James G. Gardiner, will attend Tuesday night's "banquet." Mr Gardiner is in Western Canada doing some political fence-patching.

Rt Hon Louis St. Laurent, Minister of External Affairs, is generally expected to succeed Mr. King in the leadership Mr St. Laurent is definitely "throwing his hat into the ring" Special significance is seen in arrangements he has completed to leave Ottawa immediately after Mr King's address, for his first trip as a minister of the Crown to Western Canada

Mr St. Laurent will deliver five addresses in three days in Winnipeg

Gandhi Given Only Six Days

NEW DELHI, Jan. 16 (CP).—Competent medical sources said today that 78-year-old Mohandas K Gandhi, in the fourth day of his peace fast, could endure another six days "at the utmost" without seriously endangering his life

Gandhi tonight sent a message to his prayer meeting, which he was too weak to attend, saying

"But I do feel that this warning of medical friends should, if the country has any use for me, hurry the people to close their ranks"

He declared, however, he would not end his fast prematurely

Gandhi said the India Government's decisions to implement immediately a financial agreement with Moslem Pakistan and to hold a referendum to decide the disputed allegiance of the Kathiawar States of Junagadh had "put Pakistan on its honor" to respond in kind

"What will Pakistan's counter-gesture be?" he asked

"The ways (to friendship) are many if there is the will—is it there?"

1948 Version of California Gold Rush

MORE than 125 gold coins dated in the 1880's, found by workers excavating for a school site, brought about a miniature gold rush this week at Monterey, California. Early arrivals are shown in the upper picture, digging for the valuable coins Soon hundreds of men, women and children crowded the site, as seen in the lower picture, and police had to call a halt to the gold rush because the diggers were undoing the school excavators' work The gold coins are believed to have been buried by a wealthy Monterey man who died in 1913

Decision on Gasoline Possible on Tuesday

INCREASED prices for gasoline requested by oil companies and service station operators were discussed by Provincial Government at a special Cabinet meeting yesterday.

No conclusion was reached, Premier Byron Johnson announced later, and the question will not be determined before Executive Council's next regular meeting, Tuesday.

Keeping Peace Of Doukhobors Parley Subject

Coming to grips with the problem of law enforcement in Doukhobor districts of the Interior, Provincial Government held a special Cabinet meeting yesterday afternoon to consider measures proposed by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

These were based on recommendations by New Westminster County Court Judge H J. Sullivan, who, as special commissioner for the Government, recently completed an investigation of factional disputes that kept the Kootenays in a turmoil last year and led to renewed outbreaks of lawlessness at the beginning of 1948

After yesterday's Cabinet meeting, Mr Wismer said he was not in a position at present to disclose proposals under discussion, since it would take some days to work out a plan.

"In the meantime," he added, "we hope to be able to keep the situation under control by reinforcing police officers in the districts concerned"

(Ten additional police officers were moved to Grand Forks area a few days ago)

February Date Set For U.S. Rail Strike

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16 (AP).—Three railroad brotherhoods representing about 126,000 operating workers today set a strike date of February 6, following collapse of efforts to mediate their dispute with United States railways, President D. B Robertson of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen announced

Other unions joining in setting the strike date were the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Switchmen's Union of North America, Robertson said.

The action of the three brotherhoods was taken after Chairman Frank Douglass of the National (Railway) Mediation Board announced in Chicago that his panel was unsuccessful in settling the dispute, and said he would advise President Truman an emergency existed.

"The next step under the Railway Labor Act," said Robertson, "will be for the President to appoint an emergency board of three public members. The unions then will present their case to the emergency board."

Under the Railway Act, a 30-day "cooling off" period must elapse before a walkout can be called, permitting the fact-finding panel to hold hearings and report to the President.

The three unions voting to strike have demanded a 30 per cent pay boost.

MONTREAL, Jan. 16 (CP). — Eighteen Canadian railway brotherhoods representing 122,000 workers are awaiting action by the Federal Government following a breakdown of wage negotiations with the railway companies earlier this week.

A meeting here Wednesday between representatives of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway and Union officials ended in disagreement

H R Pettigrove, conciliator, said he would send his report to Labor Minister Mitchell because he had "failed to reconcile differences between the parties"

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—A Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen spokesman said tonight the B R T. has directed its president to start negotiations with United States and Canadian Railroads with the "greatest possible dispatch" on new contract demands.

Biographer Says Patton Owed Much to Bradley

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (NANA) — "Much of the brilliance of (the late Gen. George S) Patton came from (Gen. Omar N) Bradley setting up the operations and picking the spot," according to Gen Dwight D Eisenhower, as quoted by his biographer, Alden Hatch, in an article to appear in the February issue of True Magazine.

LATE GEN. G. S. PATTON

The article throws new light on many points of the fighting in the European theatre during the recent war which have so far been a matter of hot controversy.

"Bradley's lack of desire for publicity made the press disregard him," General Eisenhower is further quoted. "Actually, the whole thing was in his hands, but Patton would go charging off with the tanks and get all the headlines.

"They were both my best friends, you know, but that is the way it happened"

The former Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, now United States Chief of Staff, points out that plans were talked over ahead of time and that "among us three over and above the written orders, there was a constant and constructive meeting of minds"

"We'd had the same training so we thought on similar lines" General Bradley added, when the author of the magazine article spoke to him

Thus, Mr Hatch mentions "Patton's 'surprise' crossing of the Rhine, which was thought by many people to have been made in defiance of orders from supreme headquarters, was thrashed out on quiet evenings at Bradley's headquarters"

Questioned about reported friction between staffs of field commanders and SHAEF officers, Bradley is quoted as saying

"That's something that's bound to happen It's human nature Headquarters thinks field isn't competent and field is sure staff isn't

"There are a lot of things that staffs don't know," Bradley continues. "Not only personal conferences like mine with 'Ike' and Patton and (Gen. Courtney B) Hodges, but phone talks. Many very important orders were given over the telephone Historians are already kicking because there is no record of them."

Must Supply Car Lot

Members of Victoria Police Commission were taken by surprise yesterday when they were informed by Acting Police Chief John Blackstock that the city must provide sheltered parking space for impounded automobiles when the tough new provisions of the Motor Vehicle Act come into force March 1.

Commission decided to ask the city council to obtain a lot on the south side of Fisgard Street, lying west of the police station, between the Chinese Masonic Hall and a building at the corner of Government Street.

Acting Chief Blackstock explained that under the terms of the new laws, police must impound the car of any person involved in an accident in which damage is more than $25, or if any person is injured, and the driver cannot produce a card showing that he carries the necessary insurance.

The department must provide a covered parking place and safekeeping for the cars so impounded, he said, and could make a charge to the driver concerned for storage

Regardless of who was to blame for the accident, police would be required to take this action, he said, predicting that ample space would be needed in the parking area.

High Construction Cost Threatens School Plans

Sole Tender for Technical Building $97,000 More Than 1946 Estimate

Rising construction costs have presented a grave problem for the Greater Victoria School Board and its $4,000,000 school building program

Opening tenders for the proposed Vocational-Technical School building on the grounds of Victoria High School, the board discovered that zooming labor and material costs have played havoc with the over-all program, which was drawn up in June, 1946

Only tender received was from Commonwealth Construction Co. Ltd., which made a firm bid of $247,233, or an alternative bid of $237,533 Alternative bid however stipulated that if there was any increase in the cost of labor and materials during construction, they would be added

$87,000 LESS

The board's estimate for the new unit was $150,000, which is about $87,000 less than the lone tender

Question now faced by the board is whether it can proceed with the full building program or any part of it at the present The board has been advised that under the terms of the loan by-law approved by Greater Victoria ratepayers last June, the appropriation set aside for one school cannot be transfered to provide for the added cost of building another

Unless construction on the vocational technical unit is commenced by March 31, however, the board may lose large grants established under the Federal Government's vocational training program.

A rough estimate shows that the proposed $4,000,000 program will now entail the expenditure of about $6,400,000 or about $2,500,000 more than was estimated

Austin I. Curtis, board chairman, said last night the Provincial Government would have to be consulted on the issue owing to the fact it is granting half of the total expenditures for the entire program

Birley, Wade & Stockdill, architects, told the board six contractors showed interest in the project, but only one made a bid

The entire matter was referred to the board's building and grounds committee for study.

Ald Edward Williams, chairman of the city council's school building committee, attended the meeting

Rouyn Prisoners Moved As Blaze Sweeps Cells

ROUYN, Que., Jan. 16 (CP). — Rouyn's town hall, a $150,000 structure of brick and stucco, was destroyed by fire today and 14 prisoners, held on the ground-floor cells of the two-story building, were whisked off to the twin town of Noranda under guard.

The fire, believed to have started between the walls in the electric wiring, spread quickly, fanned by a strong wind

Rouyn's volunteer fire department, fighting the fire in bitter cold weather, called on Noranda firemen for help Hose lines froze and firemen became sheathed in ice in the 25-below-zero temperature

Nine of the 14 prisoners were later transferred to the Amos, Que., jail on authority from Quebec Three of them were described as desperadoes accused of robbing a Rouyn landlord at gun-point.

All 14 were first moved to Noranda and placed in two cells, each of which ordinarily holds one prisoner At least seven of their number, said Police Chief Emile Dussault, have made attempts to break loose, and extra precautions were taken to prevent their escape. On one occasion they tried to start a fire to distract the night guard, but there was no indication that there was any connection between the prisoners' previous actions and today's fire, which started above their cells

The fire station adjoining the town hall was believed safe as the flames began to died down tonight. It was built only five years ago and is of reinforced concrete construction.

The town hall, built in 1928, houses municipal quarters, including the police station and cells on the ground floor. On the second floor were town offices court offices and the office of the sheriff

All the town records were reported removed safely except those of the town engineer, whose files were locked in two steel cabinets

Controversy Confronts Immigrants

KITCHENER, Ont Jan 16 (CP). —Twenty-four Estonians including nine women and a three-year-old boy, arrived here tonight to start a free, new life for which they crossed the stormy Atlantic in a 43-foot sailboat

But as they prepared to settle in a roomy, three-story house obtained for them by the Canadian Lutheran World Relief Committee, they slaped into a controversy over whether or not that accommodation was denied to Canadian veterans.

John Becker, president of the Kitchener-Waterloo Branch of the Canadian Legion, said Wednesday a formal protest has been sent to Federal Government authorities.

He charged the house had been vacant for "some months" and said he knew of "at least one veteran of the World War who was refused rental of the place when he applied"

C N. Weber, owner of the house, said he believed the Legion official had been "misinformed" The house had not become vacant until last month, when the Lutheran organization had started negotiations to obtain it for the Estonians

"Furthermore, part of the house, which is a duplex, has for some time been occupied by a veteran and his family and will continue to be thus occupied," Mr. Weber said.

Legal Precedent Set

Appeal from the first conviction in Canada under the new Habitual Criminal Act was heard yesterday in Appeal Court, with judgment reserved until February 4.

William Munavish, 34, conducted his own case in appealing the habitual criminal life sentence imposed last August in County Court in Vancouver by Judge C. J. Lennox. He is also appealing concurrent sentences for possession of house-breaking tools and explosives

Munavish argued that he was convicted as an habitual criminal on "improper evidence," and told the court that "it seems strange that the act has been in force since July 17, 1947, and I'm the only man charged under it."

"You're the first, but you probably won't be the last," replied Chief Justice Gordon M Sloan, who is presiding with Mr Justices Sidney Smith and H. B Robertson.

"I've seen worse," Chief Justice Sloan commented while studying Munavish's record

Stanley J Remnant, appearing for the Crown, said that convictions under the act are reviewable every three years by the Minister of Justice.

Bracken Labels Controls "Cruel Practical Joke"

By The Canadian Press

Reimposition of controls on meat and butter brought little immediate change in prices but reaction ranged all the way from mild approval of the Federal Government action to predictions that the ultimate result will be black-market activity.

The control move, announced Thursday night by Finance Minister Abbott, brought immediate comment from Opposition Leader John Bracken, M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, and from farmer, labor and butcher organizations

Mr Bracken, in Ottawa, termed the Government move "a cruel practical joke at the expense of the consumer," and said it would result in higher prices than would otherwise be paid

JOHN BRACKEN

Mr Coldwell said the Government's action in fixing the ceilings at the "present high levels" is a "bitter disappointment." The Government had allowed prices to skyrocket, "has frozen them and now calls it a ceiling"

A R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said he welcomed the controls as far as they went but that the ceiling levels were not low enough

Premier T C Douglas of Saskatchewan's CCF Government said the reimposition came at a time when the price situation was almost "out of hand" The Government "now is trying to roll prices back over inflated levels"

At Edmonton, the United Farmers of Alberta sent a telegram to Prime Minister Mackenzie King to protest "the injustice of the recently-announced policy of the Government in singling out major agricultural products for the reimposition of ceiling prices without reintroduction of a general policy of price control"

C H Millard, national director of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO), said in Toronto he considered the Government action "inadequate" Prices should be rolled back to where they were before recent increases, he said

The black-market predictions were made in Vancouver and Toronto Vancouver meat dealers said through a spokesman that a black market in beef may develop within two months because producers might dispose of their stock unless seasonal advances in ceilings are permitted to make up for higher feed costs

Pitched Battle Rages in Haifa

JERUSALEM, Jan. 16 (AP)—Jews and Arabs tonight battled in the streets of Haifa, one of the greatest ports in the Eastern Mediterranean

Hagana, the Jewish militia, said without official confirmation that 40 Arabs were killed and 80 wounded in the day's fighting there

Other reports, however, limited the casualties to 27 persons killed there and elsewhere in Palestine in the last 24 hours Official reports said the dead included eight children and a woman.

Jews bombed two Arab houses and launched attacks on 15 Arab buses in the Haifa area Arab vengeance squads took to the streets with guns and knives

With Haifa the main battleground for the time being, the unofficial count of violent deaths in the Holy Land reached 828 for the period since the United Nations voted for partition November 29

Answering assertions of British Army officers that a plane believed to be Jewish had fired on an RAF reconnaissance plane over the Hebron battle zone yesterday, Hagana said the plane in question was carrying blood plasma from Tel Aviv to a Jewish settlement and was unarmed

Approximately 100 of the 170 box factory employees will be laid off.

Nurse and Sick Child in Ordeal On Snowbound Manitoba Road

WINNIPEG, Jan 16 (CP) The story of a nurse who trudged a half-mile clasping a sick, two-year-old boy when a car bearing the youngster to hospital became snowbound in frigid weather unfolded tonight as this province remained gripped in a cold spell following a mid-week storm

Nurse Katherine Donald of Gladstone, 75 miles northwest of here, suffered from exposure and froze [illegible] patient to Macdonald, site of an army barracks, after snowdrifts halted the car outside the town The child, a diphtheria suspect, was being taken to Winnipeg by the nurse and Dr A H McKinnon of Gladstone.

A truck operated by two Gladstone men sought to break trail for the doctor's machine on the journey but both vehicles slid off the road about four miles from Macdonald, The truck occupants, George Galloway and Ralph Scott, walked into Macdonald to obtain aid and returned with another car [illegible] a drift a half-mile from town and those in the party set out on foot with Nurse Donald carrying the patient most of the way. In all, they spent close to 20 hours on the road in weather around 18 degrees below zero

In Macdonald, Nurse Donald was given treatment after which she returned to Gladstone while Dr McKinnon continued by train to Winnipeg where the patient was placed in hospital Hospital authorities said condition of the youngster, a son of Bruce Bradford of Gladstone, was "fairly good" today

CLEARING ROADS

Meanwhile, 21 Provincial Government snowploughs were in operation today clearing roads throughout the province. Most side roads were still blocked although progress had been made towards opening up main highways. The weatherman predicted continued cold but with no snow and only light winds

Bus companies expected operations to have returned to normal by Friday

One of the worst stretches is the 75 miles between La Riviere and Deloraine in southwestern Manitoba. The road between the two towns had been blocked by drifting snow whipped by winds that reached a peak of 40 miles per hour

Fresh Strikes Start in Ruhr

DUESSELDORF Jan 16 (AP) —Strikes in three Ruhr cities touched off new unrest in Western Germany today. Fifty thousand workers in Duisberg, Muehlheim and Dislaken struck against the food shortages, bringing to more than 160,000 the number who have walked out for brief periods in the last week The total out, however, was about 50,000, most of the remaining 110,000 having returned to work

The attention being given the situation by Anglo-United States military authorities was especially acute because of the publication of "Protocol M." purporting to outline a Communist master plan of strikes for the purpose of breaking down the Marshall Plan for European recovery by attacking the industrial heart of Europe Britain's Foreign Office said it was convinced the plan was of authentic Communist origin. The Communist-controlled Socialist Unity party declared in Berlin, however, that the document was a "clumsy swindle"

Demands U.N. Probe Strife

LAKE SUCCESS Jan. 16 (AP)—Pakistan called on the United Nations Security Council today to stop Indian "aggression" against Pakistan and create a commission or commissions to investigate and verify Pakistan's charges of "mass destruction" of Moslems in Indian territory.

The Moslem Dominion also demanded that the council compile a list of government officials and rulers—presumably Indian princes—[illegible] guilty of "genocide" (race extermination) with a view to trying them in an international tribunal.

Auto Workers Name Demands

DETROIT, Jan. 16 (AP) — The United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) demanded a 25-cents-an-hour wage increase of the automobile industry today, plus "fringe" demands bringing the estimated total to 30 cents

The added five cents was asked for proposed health and medical insurance, and U.A.W. President Walter Reuther said the union "will not hesitate" to back its full demands with a strike

Spokesmen for General Motors, Chrysler and the Ford Motor Company—the industry's "Big Three"—declined comment on the demand. Union officials estimated it would add roughly $10,000,000 a week to the industry's payrolls.

The average auto worker's wage is about $1.60 an hour.

Why "BILL 39" IS LABOR'S BILL OF RIGHTS

The right to strike . . . after responsibility to the public has been discharged and after a secret ballot: That is what British Columbia's labor legislation (Bill 39) guarantees to labor.

But it guarantees more than the basic right to strike.

It provides that before a strike can legally be called, there must be in the interest of all concerned:

(a) Negotiation in good faith between employer and employees' representatives: (An employer who does not bargain in good faith can be charged in court and fined).
(b) A period of conciliation with representatives of the Department of Labor attempting to reconcile the difference:
(c) A conciliation board acting as mediator; and, if no settlement is reached
(d) A government-supervised secret ballot of employees affected to determine whether or not they want to take strike action.

THE ONLY THING NEW IN THIS PROCEDURE IS THE SUPERVISED SECRET BALLOT ON STRIKE ACTION.

It is a reform designed to free labor from the possibility of pressure and intimidation that can exist where there is open, show-of-hands balloting, often at small, unrepresentative meetings where a minority could impose its wishes on the rank and file.

It brings the democratic secret ballot to employees faced with a critical decision.

Note: "Bill 39" is not perfect legislation No one claims it is. Where necessary it can be improved by orderly and democratic action in the Legislature The public approves its basic provisions.

WHY SHOULD THE SECRET BALLOT BE OPPOSED?

Victoria Truth Centre Site Reported Sold for $60,000

The Victoria Truth Centre Building, 734 Fort Street, has been purchased by a local investor in a transaction negotiated through the joint offices of Kenneth J. Davis and Newstead Realty, it was announced yesterday.

Sale price is reported to be about $60,000. Name of the investor was not divulged.

The building was constructed in 1930 and has been occupied by the Truth Centre ever since. Officials of the Centre said yesterday they had purchased the large house known as Pentreview on Pentreview Place, former Crease home. They could not, however, predict when the Centre would move to its new location, which is now being renovated.

FOOLED BY FISH

Mr and Mrs. Jack Carl and family, 1897 Foul Bay Road, had plenty of cause for excitement Thursday night when they discovered what they believed to be two pearls in a can of sardines.

However, when Dr. Clifford Carl of the Provincial Museum examined the "pearls," the excitement was over. Dr. Carl said they were nothing but fish eyes, explaining that the eyes become extremely hard when cooked, and are reasonably hard in their live form.

"I hate to spoil their enjoyment, but I'm afraid they are just fish eyes," said Dr. Carl.

Billboard Ban Explained By Official

Commercial signs on all major highways in British Columbia are to be prohibited this year, H C Anderson, chief engineer for the Provincial Department of Public Works, last night told the Victoria branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Coinciding with this move will be the introduction of a standard sign system in Canada, so that all highway markings in the provinces will be similar, to reduce confusion and driving hazards, he added.

Commenting on the Hope-Princeton Highway, Mr Anderson said the $8,000,000 project would be finished sometime this year and would be on a par with any highway on the continent.

Highway construction costs today, he said, are about 20 per cent higher than they were in 1939. Costs of bridge construction have increased three-fold during the last eight years and road costs per mile average about $4 800 with an extra $10,000 required for heavy paving.

In attendance at the meeting were the Public Works Minister, E C Carson, and Ald D D. McTavish.

A film showing the construction of "Pluto," the English Channel pipe line, followed Mr Anderson's talk.

Lower Fraser Valley History Theme at Historical Meeting

Early history of the lower Fraser Valley was outlined last night at the annual meeting of the British Columbia Association in the library of the Parliament Buildings.

George White, association president, delivered a detailed paper on the growth of the agricultural district from 1808, when Simon Fraser navigated the river that bears his name, up to the present.

He told of the fight of pioneers to control the flood waters of the river until today the farm lands are protected by 120 miles of dykes. Rapid development of the area after the gold rush in 1858 was due to good transportation, he said, outlining the river-boat era, bridge building and coming of the electric tramway.

G H Stevens, chairman of the Victoria section of the Association reported on activities of his branch during last year.

Willard E Ireland, provincial archivist, told the meeting of the publication plans of the B C Historical quarterly which, he said, was subscribed to by leading Canadian and U S Universities and organizations.

Miss Helen Boutilier, secretary, reported on her work and on the activities of the Vancouver section. J K Nesbitt, honorary treasurer, delivered the financial report.

Unveiling of Historical Plaque in City Honors Memory of Colonist Founder

Amor De Cosmos, pioneer publisher and a "fighter for responsible government," who was the second Premier of B C officially became an "eminent Canadian" last night when a plaque in his honor was unveiled in the main lobby of the Legislative Chamber in the Parliament Buildings.

Erected by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, the plaque is the type known as an "eminent Canadian tablet," and recalls the pioneer's career as founder of The Colonist in 1858, Premier of British Columbia and colorful politician.

H T Matson, publisher of The Colonist, unveiled the plaque after Minister of Education W T Straith, acting for Premier Byron I. John- Provincial Government.

Dr W N Sage, head of the Department of History at the University of British Columbia, outlined Mr De Cosmos' career, referring to him as a "doughty fighter for responsible government and a champion of Confederation."

The plaque reads, in part:

"A leader in the struggle for Confederation and responsible government. Premier of B C 1872-74. Born in Windsor, N.B., August 20, 1825. Died Victoria, July 4, 1897."

The man who was born William Alexander Smith and was known to his family as plain "Bill Smith," is the second pioneer figure remembered by a tablet in the lobby. The first is Sir James Douglas, whom Mr De Cosmos opposed violently in the fight to get British Columbia into Confederation.

Speakers at the ceremony recalled that Mr De Cosmos took his more colorful name, translated as "Lover of the World," by an act of the California Legislature in 1854, four years before he came to Victoria in the days of the Fraser River gold rush.

He was a member of the Legislative Assembly of the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island from 1863 to 1866, a member of the Legislative Council of British Columbia in 1866-71, and an M.P. for Victoria from 1871 to 1882. He died at age 72 and was buried at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Present were several relatives [illegible] Jessie Simpson, nieces now [illegible] Victoria, and George Scott of Sidney, whose grandfather was a personal friend of Mr De Cosmos. The portrait of the editor is hung near the tablet.

Seeks Power To Lease City Hall Site

Victoria is placing a notice in The B C Gazette that the city intends to apply for legislation at the coming session for power to lease the City Hall site.

The city seeks power to lease or sell the property, to exempt the purchaser from taxation for such period as the council may determine or to grant fixed taxation as determined. This would include power to accept part of the taxation in advance and to apply the money for construction of a new City Hall.

Question of whether the City Hall site should be leased to a group intending to erect a $4 000,000 hotel is scheduled to go before ratepayers in June or before.

Price Controls

Reinstatement of price controls on meat and butter in Canada as announced by Finance Minister Abbott this week may have come in response to public clamor over rocketing food prices, or it may be part of the means whereby the Administration hopes to convince Parliament that its control authority over food and essential commodities should be extended when it expires on March 31 next. By reimposing these two controls, Ottawa admits that the action in lifting them recently was premature. Will it be the same story with rentals?

No matter what the disadvantages of price fixing, there is no doubt that the reinstatement of some form of control over the prices of meat and butter will be popular with the Canadian housewife. Also the limitation of spread on imported vegetables will be welcomed. Celery, for instance, selling at 70 cents a head has not much justification in Canada at this time, or at any time for that matter.

There will also be disadvantages to the reimposition of such controls. The reversal of the former edict puts Canada back in part to a wartime condition in this respect. It retards the day when competitive markets can be re-established. It leaves in official hands control over essential elements of the nation's food. At best the reimposition of controls is an expedient, and we shall all have to wait to see how that works now.

Certainly what was done with meat and butter when controls were lifted was not encouraging, but here is a legal warrant for charging high prices continuously.

Taxation

Economists differ over the effect of taxation in an inflationary period, one group saying one thing and the next another. There is little doubt, however, that the abnormally high level of postwar taxation in Canada is today one of the active spurs to the sharp degree of inflation this country is experiencing. The mere fact that the Crown will take from a third to a half of his income before he receives it leads the thrifty citizen to scratch his head and ask where he can find more.

While the war was on many saw at least the excuse for taxation, personal and business, at what by comparative standards were extremely punitive rates. Now that the war is ended, however, business men and individuals are wondering why the billion-dollar type of budgets are continuing, and what really is being done with the money. In the interval of the war years, Canada gained approximately 6,000,000 people and lost 6,000,000 people, for no appreciable change in our population.

In two postwar budgets the Dominion has promised taxation reduction more vigorously than it has produced it. Corporation and individual levies have been reduced in successive small reductions, all of which does not compare with the rate at which taxation climbed after hostilities broke out. The Dominion, as the chief tax gatherer, is still taking the first and the largest cut from every pay envelope, before the Provinces and the Municipalities come along for their shares. Direct and indirect taxes in Canada have shown only very limited recession from the peak of the war period itself.

To what an extent this condition has helped to induce inflation it would be difficult to trace. Certainly it has led to demands for higher wages and higher prices, both reacting on each other. At this session, Parliament should give a lead by compressing taxation into more reasonable levels; not by promises to apply at some distant time in the future, but in the coming fiscal year. National expenditures can be cut and should, and this is the lead for which the country is waiting.

Immigration Figures

In pointing out that immigration to Canada increased by 89 per cent from November, 1946, to November, 1947, the statement issued by the Department of Mines and Resources takes unjustified credit for what is meant to show a brisker flow of needed settlers from other countries to this Dominion. The whole of 1946 was taken up principally with repatriating men and women of the three services and their families so that as a basis for favorable comparison that year is no criterion whatsoever. As matters stand, the department claims that when final figures for 1947 are compiled it will be found that some 75,000 immigrants will have been admitted.

More than 9,000 of these were Canadians returning from the United States presumably of their own volition, so no credit for this part of the showing belongs to immigration authorities. Apart from the 7,346 displaced Europeans admitted, part of a program which when completed will see a haven given to 20,000 of these homeless people, the majority of immigrants coming to this country last year came without the initiation of the Department of Mines and Resources. Many sailed for Canada of their own accord, individual employers sponsored the entry of some others, and the Ontario Government launched the only substantial scheme of planned immigration during 1947.

The departmental report cites that Canadian immigration offices were reopened and several new agencies established last year in various capitals of Europe. Not much to date can be credited to their activities. The Dominion is still without any comprehensive plan to bring desired immigrants to needed areas of this country. The 75,000 newcomers of last year entered Canada in spite of this lack, not because of any forethought exhibited by the department, which now points to that figure as though it were something of which to be proud.

Small Savings

Statements that the average man in the street has long since used up his savings, and that large deposits in the hands of the chartered banks belong chiefly to corporations, are not borne out by official figures. The reverse, in fact, is more nearly true. The October-November, 1947, statistical summary of the Bank of Canada shows that four-fifths of the $6,337,500,000 in savings accounts in the hands of the chartered banks at that time were contained in accounts of $1,000 or less. The probability is that had the analysis been carried further the proportion of deposits of sums much less than $1,000 would have been equally marked.

No less than $5,517,000,000 was in the books of the banks against the names of individuals having less than $1,000 in savings accounts. At the other end of the scale only $1,000,000 lay to the credit of accounts of more than $100,000 in size. In between, some $89,600,000 belonged to accounts which ranged in size from $5,000 to $25,000. By far the largest amount of money on savings deposit, therefore, was put there by people of ordinary income brackets.

The same story was true of current accounts, wherein it might more reasonably have been thought the tables would be different. The Bank of Canada classification indicated that again accounts of $1,000 or less topped the standings, with $685,900,000 to their credit. Accounts of from $5,000 to $25,000 totaled $38,500,000, and those over $100,000 had a collective credit of $2,300,000. Total deposits of all kinds recorded in chartered bank ledgers amounted to $7,286,000,000.

These figures show that the largest financial interest in bank deposits belongs to persons of modest means, and not as is often thought to large business and industrial concerns. They also indicate that the retained purchasing power of the Canadian people remains at a high level.

Merry Go-Round

Many people have experience of the departmental merry-go-round which results from an inquiry even slightly misdirected to a governmental office. One such happened in Whitehall the other day, although its Canadian counterpart doubtless could be found quite easily. Something of a dilemma was caused when a letter bearing a North American stamp was received, addressed to the "Department of Natural Resources, Government Buildings, England."

"Resources—that must be the Treasury," said somebody. So there the letter went. But at the Treasury when they read the letter it was found to be a request from a Canadian school girl for information on the "interesting country of Whales." "Whales—that's obviously the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries," said somebody else, and off went the letter to that department. There is was decided that it was really nothing to do with them and off went the letter again, this time to the Tourist Information Centre of the British Travel Association, which is used to dealing with ambiguous requests.

What the school girl wanted, of course, was information on Wales, so to the Grade VII Canadian school miss at last was forwarded a plentiful supply of literature illustrating the Principality. The association's journal, Travel Talk, tells this little story, either to draw attention to its own perspicacity or to the lack of imagination to be found sometimes among Government departments. If there is a moral to this tale it is that persons who seek information should not lean upon Governments too hard.

Everyday Miracles

A tiny bridge above the stream
And in this lonely place
A ragged edge of sunset caught
Against the water's face.
Staining to red its crimson depths
A miracle divine,
For here before me once again
Is water turned to wine.

I walked with Spring about the fields,
And in a sunny spot
I found a little grey cocoon,
With silken meshes caught.
But when I stopped to look again
I knelt and held my breath,
The tiny sepulchre was bare,
For Life had conquered Death

How it is, then, that I should ask
A plainer speech than these,
Birds going North in April,
And the sight of greening trees
The pearly mist of hawthorn buds,
Hot sunlight on the sea
Answers my hungry heart and makes
A worshipper of me.

A RARE BIRD

(Hamilton Spectator)

To find the fellow who has some responsibility for pushing up prices is like trying to find a voter who supported an unpopular government.

WINNING NUMBER

(Windsor Star)

There is a distinct note of hope in the story of the British seaman who was kidnapped by the U.S. army, convicted of being a deserter, assigned the number and rank of a missing warrior, and, at the cost of a mere 90 days in the clink, discharged with free passage to the United States, five medals, and $2,581.81 in cash benefits.

Old soldiers will now be convinced that, no matter how hopeless it has seemed in the past, there are winning numbers in the old Army Game—and sometimes they turn up.

SAMUEL CUNARD

(Halifax Chronicle)

It is good to hear that the Cunard-Donaldson Line expects to add to its Canadian fleet in the future. It was, as the president of the line remarked, appropriate that this announcement should be made in Halifax, "where Samuel Cunard, more than 100 years ago, established trans-Atlantic services with steam vessels."

Yet how many remember Samuel Cunard? How many know that his bones lie in a neglected grave in the churchyard of the Little Dutch Church, on Brunswick Street in this city? Apart from a dilapidated and leaning headstone, there is no memorial to his name.

Yet much is owed to Samuel Cunard who, report says, once pushed a coal-barrow through the streets of this city.

C.C.F. COOK BOOK

(Calgary Herald)

We have been under the impression, until recently, that Canadians of all political stripes ate pretty much the same types of food. Some ate more, and some less, we understand, though we attributed this to the condition of the individual's purse, or his digestion.

The C.C.F., however, has different tastes, culinary as well as political. We conclude this from an announcement that "a limited, cloth-bound edition of 'Canadian Favorites,' the popular C.C.F. cook book," is now available to the faithful, and that enthusiasm for it "is evident far beyond C.C.F. circles."

Such enthusiasm could only be engendered by a few favorite recipes from the hands of the party leaders. There must, surely, be some new slants on warmed-over hash and scrambled brains. And a hint or two on how to cook crow attractively would be a positive godsend to defeated candidates.

HEARING THE GRASS GROW!

(Guelph Mercury)

Do you know that ants and spiders sing? That termites whistle? That flies scream, and that weevils clatter and bang when boring wheat grains?

They do, declares a scientific writer in The Washington Post. We don't hear them because human ears are not attuned to these sounds, but if science continues to progress we may yet tune in to an orchestra, or listen to the rush of sap in the trees.

Magnified powerfully, practically nothing is soundless. Not even the air, nor a blade of grass growing. Our ears naturally embrace about 11 octaves, the scientist points out. Music embraces seven. The cry of a bat is said to be an octave higher than the chirp of a sparrow. And music is shriller still. The microphone is picking up sounds never heard before, opening up to human ears a world of research as suddenly fathomable as the world the microscope opened up to the human eyes.

PIGS HAVE WINGS

(Winnipeg Tribune)

The Tribune has received the following letter from Mary Bell, of Benenden School in Kent:

"Sir,—A most magnificent gift of a whole side of bacon arrived recently by air for me and without any clue as to the sender, so I beg for space to say how much I appreciate this gift. I have an idea that it comes from some of the generous people of Winnipeg.

"It has long been a subject of debate in academic and nursery circles as to whether pigs have wings, and I can only say it gives me the greatest pleasure to have this question settled so satisfactorily.

A steady procession of people came to view it all day long, but on sampling it proved an even greater joy, and my welcome home was very warm, so I want to say Thank You. MARY BELL."

Our acquaintance with Miss Bell is limited to this letter. But we feel safe in saying that she has the qualities of Mr Chips and Mrs Miniver that put wings on pigs in trying times and it will help pull Britain out of the troubles in which the country finds itself today.

Hirohito in New Role as Symbol of State

By RAY FALK
North American Newspaper Alliance

TOKIO, Jan. 10 (By Airmail).—The Emperor of Japan is America's ace card against Communism in this country and his position will be upheld in America's foreign policy in months to come, in accordance with a very thorough study of the Emperor system prepared by S.C.A.P.'s Government section for General MacArthur.

The study asserts that the Emperor has a position above and beyond the constitution. His popularity is immense; the banzais are louder than ever.

The study says that, while another Tojo could some day use the Emperor for his own ambitions the Tenno is the best bulwark against Communism meanwhile.

The Communist party has sung the same unrelenting refrain, "The Emperor is a war criminal. Abolish the throne." Without an Emperor millions of Japanese would be confused and that is precisely the Communist aim.

In the last few weeks Ex-Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo and the Marquis Koichi Kido, former Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal and confidential adviser to the Emperor, strongly implicated Hirohito in their defence statements at the International Military Tribunal sitting here. Every such reference to the Emperor was counter-argued by American Chief Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan in a determined effort to clear the throne of any war guilt.

Recent British-parliamentary fears of "emperor worship" and Chinese press accusations of a revival of imperial feudal conceptions have brought on S.C.A.P.-inspired changes in the Imperial household.

The study points out that the Emperor is trying to live up to his new role as a "symbol of the state and of the unity of the people, deriving his position from the will of the people with whom resides sovereign power." But the Imperial Household staff has not changed. "They are doing business at the same old stand as if nothing had happened."

On the Emperor's December trip to Hiroshima and Southern Honshu, military-government teams found millions of yen and thousands of man hours spent on laying carpets, filling in roadbeds, rebuilding city halls and washing down railroad stations. Individual companies spent as much as 500,000 yen for a 10-minute visit by the Emperor.

Despite the fact that all these improvements had been made specially for the Emperor's visit, some local American officers said the changes were long overdue and would benefit the community as a whole.

Meals for the 100-man entourage brought from Tokio were delicious and sumptuous. Every time the Imperial train made a two-minute stop, food was loaded aboard and waiters kept passing up and down the aisle distributing fruits, cakes, cigarettes, full meals and more of the same—in a country supposed to be short of edibles.

Although none of these preparations were demanded by the Imperial Household, prefectural governments and individual companies appropriated the huge outlays when emissaries from Tokio explained how a royal trip should be arranged.

In strict defiance of S.C.A.P. directives permitting display of Japan's national flag only on specially designated holidays, the Imperial Household issued thousands of little Rising-Sun flags to school children who were massed along the Imperial Route.

At the instigation of S.C.A.P. the Japanese Government has made changes in the hierarchy of the Imperial Household which tends to keep the Emperor for its own personal ends.

Army officials and Allied newspapermen have found household members haughty and obstructive. Viscount Yoshitami Matsudaira has the title of Household Minister but Susumu Kato, vice-minister, controls the Emperor's every move. On public tours Kato walks two feet behind the Tenno and often the Emperor turns around and looks quizzically at Kato as if to say "What do you want me to do next." Kato told a reliable Japanese newspaperman the other day that "this is not the time for the Emperor to jump from god to common person."

When the Japanese Government returned the Imperial forests to the people and turned many princes and princesses into commoners, the household's administrative duties were cut to a bare minimum. Yet, descendants of the famous shogun and court families of the past 500 years still serve in the household as paid, honorary members.

There are, however, inside the palace gates, some younger men such as Minoru Kuroda, secretary of the household, who see Hirohito or Crown Prince Akihito in S.C.A.P. light—as the hope in the hearts of a defeated people, as a good-will ambassador of Japan and as the one institution that can keep the red sun from running over and tainting red the rest of the Japanese flag.

Predicts Ban Will Mean End To Symphonies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP) — James W Murray, vice-president of Radio Corporation of America, predicted today that James C Petrillo's ban on phonograph record making will mean the end of major symphony orchestras in the United States.

Murray, who is in charge of record making for R.C.A., also told the House Labor Committee that 150 small record making companies face "immediate death" as a result of the action by the musicians' union chief. He added:

"Petrillo is not merely undertaking to put an industry out of business, he is also dictating to American people the nature and quality of the music to which they may listen.

"Orchestras like the Boston, Philadelphia and New York symphonies receive as much as $160,000 a year from their recording royalties. Without that income, they could not continue."

Yachters Set Racing Dates

SEATTLE, Jan. 16 (AP) — The Seattle Yacht Club Sailboat Committee said today the 160-mile Swiftsure Lightship Race, longest in the North Pacific, would be held this year over the Memorial Day week-end, May 29-31.

Usually the race, running through the Strait of Juan de Fuca and several miles into the ocean, has been held just before the Pacific International Yachting Association Regatta. The latter event this year is to be around July 1, with Victoria, B.C., as host.

The club's elaborate opening day regatta is set for May 1. Other events include the 40-mile Hat Island Race May 15-16, the 80-mile Protection Island Race June 12-13 and the 40-mile Vashon Island Race September 18-19.

Bill, the Broad Street barber, never tires of telling standard jokes connected with the tonsorial profession. One in particular concerns a customer who was nicked twice while being shaved. "Have you another razor?" he asked the barber. "Certainly. What for?" the barber answered. "I want it to defend myself," the customer retorted. Another old-timer deals with a customer who also received minor cuts in the process of being shaved. "May I have a glass of water?" he asked. "Of course. Are you thirsty?" the barber inquired. "No, I want to see if my throat leaks," the customer growled. . . . From a Collinson Street resident: "Yesterday I bought two tins of peaches, four large tins of milk, a pound of butter and a pound of coffee, and the bill came to $2.55. During the height of the war, four years ago, the same items cost $1.50. Wages and prices no longer mean much. It is the take-home groceries that count." . . . Pioneer French Canadians computed distance in terms of how far a man could walk while smoking a pipeful of tobacco. The average distance was three-quarters of a mile. . . . Voters of Niagara Falls, Ont., turned down a by-law to enlarge the city hospital, but approved of another measure to enlarge the cemetery. It was a case of last things first. . . . A British travel agency recently asked several hundred United States visitors for comments on their first postwar stay in England. The majority complained they could not get a good cup of coffee, and thought the climate was exceptionally poor. . . . La Rouchefoucauld wrote: "A man who shows himself too well satisfied with himself is seldom pleased with others. They, in return, are little disposed to like him."

POLICE PROMOTIONS

Sir,—The Victoria Police Commission's request for a board of experts to help choose a chief is a simon pure confession. The crime records and police records are second to none in any city in Canada. In the past 40 years the chief and other officers have been promoted from the ranks. This proven successful method should be continued, seniority and ability to govern in all promotions. The class of men on the force today is the best they ever had, and there is ample material from which to choose a new chief and deputy. A policeman's job at the best is an unhappy and thankless one, so why remove the only incentive there is for the force by importing a "brass hat."

The average citizen is satisfied with the present force and would like to see promotions from the ranks as a reward for services rendered.

The time used is Pacific Standard for from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

An acre originally meant an open, ploughed or sowed field.

According to Culbertson - - - -

(Copyright, 1948, by Ely Culbertson)

Finesses are unavoidable evils at bridge, but there are such things as discrimination and safety measures even in this luck-infested field. Consider today's deal:

South, dealer.
East-West vulnerable

NORTH
♠ A 9 6
♥ A 4 3
♦ 9 8 6 2
♣ J 6 4

WEST
♠ Q 5
♥ 6 5
♦ Q J 10 5 3
♣ Q 8 7 5

EAST
♠ 10 8 7 2
♥ K 10 9 8
♦ 7 4
♣ K 9 2

SOUTH
♠ K J 4 3
♥ Q J 7 2
♦ A K
♣ A 10 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

North raised the spades rather than make the less encouraging response of one no trump.

West opened the diamond queen. Declarer won and immediately took the heart finesse, letting the queen ride. East won and knocked out declarer's last diamond stopper. Now a spade was led to the ace and the second finesse taken on the return. West pounced on the jack and cashed three diamond tricks.

The only thing that kept declarer from going down two tricks was the fact that East was squeezed on the run of diamonds. Declarer, by carefully following his discards, managed to hold the right cards and take the balance.

The most expert declarer could not avoid finessing in this deal, but he would use far greater discretion than this particular South put into the play. Take the matter of South's heart queen lead at the second trick for example. What useful purpose could that serve? No matter how the hearts were divided, South could not hope to run the suit without the loss of at least one trick, and by starting out with the queen, he would lose two heart tricks. The proper play was to lead low to the heart ace, then back toward the Q-J-7. This manoeuvre in itself would hold East to one heart trick.

Next, South's method of playing the spade suit was equally wrong. Here the proper play was to lay down the king, then lead low to the ace. If the queen fell, well and good; if it didn't, declarer could then lead up to his own spade jack and still safeguard another trick in the spade suit if East had the queen or if the suit broke 3-3.

Had South followed both of these safety measures and chosen his finesses more logically, he would have come out with a fulfilled contract.

Eire Republican Party Seeks Break From Civil War Issue

DUBLIN, Jan 16 (CP) Emergence of Clann na Poblachta, Sean MacBride's new Republican Party, as a potential force in Irish politics has given youth an unusual interest in the February 4 general election campaign.

Since the "troubles," political thought has been dominated largely by personal issues of leadership—a continuation on the political front of the armed setup of the civil war period. William T. Cosgrave, Fine Gael victor in arms in 1923, was replaced as Prime Minister in 1932 by Fianna Fail's Eamon de Valera defeated in arms but now triumphant at the ballot box.

Bitter past differences were visible in every legislative controversy. De Valera and Cosgrave, who has now retired from politics, were not on speaking terms, ignoring each other in the parliamentary lobbies and outside them. They addressed one another only in the cut and thrust of Dail debate. It was the same with many other deputies.

But a new generation which had not taken part in the civil war found it all very tiring. Great numbers did not bother to vote in the half-dozen elections of the Fianna Fail regime.

Today the average man would find it hard to point out the fundamental differences in the Fianna Fail and Fine Gael platforms. Fianna Fail in the responsibilities of office, has become a Conservative party. In 1932 it provided the Republican challenge to Conservative Fine Gael, now in 1948, it is in turn facing the same sort of challenge.

MacBride's Clann na Poblachta has made an attempt to get away from the civil war complex. It wants a more definite brand of Republicanism, which may mean that it would favor the formal declaration of a republic, breaking the last constitutional links with Britain.

It proposes to make partition a live issue by inviting representatives from the six counties of Northern Ireland to sit in the Dail. It has hinted vaguely at plans for currency reform. It urges vigorous action to provide work at home and so stop the heavy drain of emigration to Britain.

The Clann's success in the two by-elections which precipitated the general election was a surprise to most political observers. Since then the party has been attacked as "Fascist," "Communist," and "unconstitutional." Officially the party, denying such charges, says:

"We stand for the erasting and development of an economic and social system based upon Christian, social and economic principles."

Vancouver Thief Proves Axe-Shy

VANCOUVER, Jan 16 (CP)—Vancouver's "polite burglar" is axe-shy.

He visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Morris early today, but fled when Morris took after him with an axe.

He also has another trick. He cuts telephone wires before he enters a house.

Morris found his telephone useless and had to get a neighbor to call police.

U.B.C. Group Wins Debate

EDMONTON, Jan 16 (CP).—The University of British Columbia team of A. Miller and Bob Keenan tonight was awarded a split decision over the University of Alberta team of Don Lister and Tevie Miller in a McGoun Cup debate on the resolution, "That the Canadian Government should take immediate action to curb the power of organized labor."

The U. of A. students upheld the affirmative on the topic. The three judges gave the U.B.C. team two votes, the Alberta team one.

Welfare Personnel Seek Higher Standard of Pay

OTTAWA, Jan 16 (CP) The social work profession is wrestling with that same old problem of how to make a salary meet the rising cost of living.

Delegates attending the national conference of personnel in social work agreed today that this is one of the prime reasons for the present critical shortage of workers in their field.

Dr Harry M. Cassidy, director of [illegible] Social Work, warned that students graduating this year with a bachelor of social welfare degree, were going to demand $2,000 as a starting salary. Those with master of social welfare degrees would ask $2,200.

And these salary demands are not unreasonable in view of the sharp increase in the cost of living, he said.

Many students were married veterans with families, who upon graduation could not afford to take poorly paying jobs.

Sophie Boyd, of the staff of the University of Toronto School, de-[illegible] planned on presenting to the Federal Government. It would ask that bursaries be provided to men graduates in jobs of $2,000 a year.

HELP OF BURSARY

It was impossible for a married man to support his family at this minimum. However, with the help of such a bursary after two or three years of supervision in a secondary job, these graduates would have both the training and experience to take an administrative job at a higher salary.

Replying to comments from private agency heads that it would be difficult for their organizations to raise additional funds to meet higher salary demands, Dr. Cassidy said the bulk of social welfare expenditures in Canada went into public welfare.

He suggested that community chests "must have the courage" to say they could not support certain services, thus transferring some expenditures to public departments.

U.S. Rules Cut Visiting Visas

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP).—Attorney-General Tom Clark today approved drastic new controls to curb subversive activity by alien visitors to the United States.

Designed to provide closer surveillance over the activities of such visitors, they become effective about March 15.

After that time, the ordinary one-year visiting permit now in common use will be abolished, and the visiting privilege limited to from three to six months.

Extensions may be obtained, but will require a showing that a more extended stay is justified.

Department officials said the new rules are aimed solely at the alien who gets in as a visitor and then engages in subversive activity.

Among other things the authority over extensions of stays "and the responsibility for overseeing visitors in the United States" now held by the Philadelphia headquarters of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, would be passed by the new rule to the 16 district immigration offices throughout the country.

Ruhr Strikes May Be Genuine Or May Be Part of Red Plan

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
A.P. News Analyst

Ilya Ehrenburg, one of Russia's most rabid anti-Americans, recalls that Communism this year enters its second century and that the European revolutions of 1848 began in the Spring.

That was the prologue, says the Bolshevik commentator, and "the denouement is approaching."

"I don't know whether Spring will come early or late this year," he adds.

Well, Spring in that sense may already have come to Germany. Whether or not the Ruhr strikes are a part of a master Communist scheme, the Reds are never slow to take advantage of any disturbance.

The German workers are hungry. It will soon be evident, however, whether they are merely demonstrating for food, or whether the strikes are a result of "Protocol M" which the Allies attribute to the Belgrade Cominform (Communist Information Bureau).

There seems to be little doubt that "Protocol M" accurately represents the aim of the Communist party to defeat the Marshall Plan by strikes and sabotage. It could have been revealed by nationalistic German Communists who are pulling out of the Russian-controlled party to work for the rehabilitation of Germany.

The Ruhr strikes are being staged by the workers against the advice of their own leaders who understand that nothing is to be gained by disrupting the productive capacity which is the sole German hope of salvation.

GAUGE STRENGTH

If the strikes end suddenly it will be clear that they are merely food demonstrations such as were staged last year. If they continue long, you can be pretty sure that the Communists are in control. The situation will provide a fairly accurate gauge of Communist strength as compared with last year.

"One fact is beyond argument," says Ehrenburg. "Spring will conquer; Communism will conquer."

Well, it's no time for cocksureness or relaxation of anti-Communist efforts, but the 1848 uprisings in France and the German states to which he refers collapsed. "Protocol M" says March, not January, was the Cominform's schedule for this year's strikes in Germany. The Communists have just been beaten back in uprisings in France and Italy into which they were also forced prematurely by the rising tide of Western opposition to their plans. They are attacking still, but seemingly more on the defensive now instead of as a part of a well-timed offensive.

PINS EXPENSIVE THEN

The expression "pin money" refers to the allowance men gave their wives in the 16th century for pins then a luxury.

Assert Navy Ruining Kodiak Firms

WASHINGTON, Jan 16 (AP).—Representatives of Kodiak, Alaska, businessmen have appealed to congressmen and naval officials to stop sales to civilians at ship's stores and navy commissaries at the naval operating base there.

Mayor Lee Bettinger and L. J. Norman, Kodiak businessman, asked that the navy restrict its sales to service personnel and families. Unrestricted sales they said are "ruining" the business of regular merchants.

The two representatives said the navy sells such items to civilians as women's clothing, household utensils, furnishings, radios, toasters, watches, jewelry, cosmetics, cameras, film, luggage, phonographs, records and sporting goods, and also maintains a civilian bar at the base where liquor may be purchased by the drink or package.

All these goods, they said, are sold without tax, at less than wholesale prices and without added freight costs.

Even medical service, they continued, is furnished at the base at a rate of $5 a day for hospital care as compared to a $7.50 rate at the Kodiak hospital. Physicians services are provided free, while Kodiak physicians charged $2.50 to $5 a visit.

The navy base commander has asserted that the system is necessary to keep civilian workers in Alaska.

Civilian employees of the navy, Government departments and contractors also get a 25 per cent differential for working in Alaska.

Complete Review Of D.V.A. Cases

VANCOUVER, Jan. 16 (CP). — A five-man parliamentary committee today completed reviewal under the Canadian Military Pensions Act of more than 60 cases of individuals claimed by Walter Kirchner, secretary of the Canadian Veterans Association, to be the victims of unjust administration.

Reasons for Malnutrition

OTTAWA, Jan. 16 — Lack of knowledge of the true nutritional values of various foods is one of the most important factors contributing to malnutrition in the view of Dr. L. B. Pett, chief of the nutrition division of the Department of National Health and Welfare

"We tend to like the foods we have become accustomed to" Dr. Pett said. "Food habits are largely inherited as a result of family meal patterns and consequently poor food habits, once established, tend to be self-perpetuating."

A traditional method of preparing potatoes, for instance, is to boil and mash them—thus destroying about half the valuable vitamin C in them. Baked in their jackets they retain almost all of this element so vital in keeping the body's tissues healthy.

Dogpatch's favorite food, turnips, has not been a great favorite with Canadians, although it is a rich source of vitamin C. Two ounces of raw turnip, for instance yields 18 milligrams of the elusive vitamin C. Raw cabbage is even better with a 26-milligram count for the same quantity.

To keep healthy an individual needs from 30 to 75 milligrams of vitamin C daily. Unlike some other vitamins, only a limited amount can be stored in the body. Four ounces of canned tomatoes will supply 22 milligrams toward the daily total or the same quantity of tomato juice 20 milligrams

Another excellent Canadian source of vitamin C in these days of restricted dollars is vitaminized apple juice. Ordinary apple juice contains no vitamin C but vitaminized apple juice has vitamin C added so that it is equal in value to orange juice.

Toronto Men Express Opinions On Ideal Setting for Dinner

By MARILYN LAMBORN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Jan 16 (CP) —Prices may be up but the art of eating is just what it always was—a pleasant combination of congenial atmosphere and good food

Eight well-known men about Toronto yesterday displayed what they thought was the ideal setting for dinner. Although their settings were simple, they were discriminating and [illegible]

As a matter of fact, the male element pretty well took over at a home-making display at a downtown department store. They crowded around showings of cookery, ironing, clay modelling, metal working and household gadgets

Dashing Syl Apps hockey star, was decisive in his selection. By stipulating plenty of space, plain sterling and china, a white damask cloth and an edible fruit centrepiece, he showed he was one of the down-to-earth or up-and-at-it school. He chose milk rather than cocktail

Story-teller John Fisher preferred an all-Canadian menu in a pine-studded Canadian atmosphere. Highlights were Habitant place ments gay pottery and a centrepiece of pine cones flanked by wrought iron candle-sticks

Broadcaster Bernie Braden selected an after-ski setting because "the time for good food is when you're hungry." His trestle table was covered with royal blue felt, was colorful with yellow pottery, pewter tankards and a fruit centrepiece

Artist Angus McDonald said, "Dinnertime is the hour to relax to enjoy and to have good conversation [illegible]" He picked out a blue-striped seersucker tablecloth and a quaint Norwegian water jug in blue and cream. Place-cards were caricatures by the artist-host. No coffee to ruin a good meal, insisted Mr McDonald

Favorite meal of Symphony Conductor Paul Scherman is an after-performance supper where the setting is a mixture of formal and informal. His choice of cloth was ecru linen embroidered with sprightly peasant figures. An ornate brass samovar was the centrepiece

The taste of Industrial Designer John Parkin leaned to the formal. Individual trays set on trestles, sterling silver forks and spoons were the choice of Cooking Columnist Robert Elliot

Photographer John Steele chose a pine table with copies of a magazine cover as place mats, creating an informal impression. A large scrubbed board—on which to carve—stood at one end. He said he did not like the formal dinner where the guests wear the same starched expression as the white tablecloth

Judging takes place next week when a women's committee calls attention to flaws and picks the winner.

Little Stories for Bedtime - - -

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

CHATTERER HAS A FRIGHT

Chatterer the Red Squirrel curled up in the darkest corner of Farmer Brown's corn crib, was having such a beautiful dream. He was king of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, and all the other little people who lived there brought him presents of beautiful yellow corn. He had great storehouses all filled with corn and he never again would have to hunt for anything to eat. Even Shadow the Weasel brought him presents of corn, and everybody was very polite and bowed before him because he was king. Yes, indeed, it was a beautiful dream.

Presently he dreamed that he heard a whistle, a merry whistle. It was the whistle of Farmer Brown's boy and he could see him coming down the Lone Little Path through the Green Forest with a great bag of corn on his shoulder as a present for the King. The whistle sounded nearer and nearer and nearer. Suddenly Chatterer's eyes flew open. At first he thought he was still dreaming, for he had forgotten where he was. All around him was the beautiful yellow corn and he still heard the whistle, only now it sounded very loud, indeed. He shut his eyes and then opened them again to see if the corn would disappear. It didn't. It was real. It was all about him. In fact, he was lying on some. And the whistle was real, too. In a flash Chatterer remembered where he was, and he knew that Farmer Brown's boy must be just outside.

He started to scramble to his feet to peek out, but just then the door of the corncrib was thrown open with a bang that made Chatterer jump inside, so that it seemed as if his heart came right up into his mouth. A flood of sunshine poured in and made the corn seem more yellow than ever. Then in stepped Farmer Brown's boy—still whistling. Chatterer thought that, of course, he had come for him. He was sure of it and he was just going to make a rush for that knothole through which he had crept in when something inside him warned him to keep perfectly still.

So Chatterer kept perfectly still though it seemed to him that it was one of the hardest things he ever had done in all his life. He felt as if he simply must run. Then he remembered how Unc' Billy Possum had fooled Farmer Brown's boy by keeping perfectly still even after he had been found, so still that Farmer Brown's boy had thought him dead.

"I couldn't keep still like that," thought Chatterer, "but perhaps Farmer Brown's boy doesn't know I am here, after all. I'll keep still until he does find me." So he tried to hold his breath, and all the time his heart went thump, thump, thump with fright, and it seemed to him that Farmer Brown's boy certainly must hear it.

But he didn't. Of course not. He kept right on whistling and as he whistled he filled a basket with ears of corn. When the basket was full he stepped outside and shut the door with another bang that made poor Chatterer jump again.

"Pretty fine corn. Yes, sir, it certainly is pretty fine corn," said Farmer Brown's boy to Farmer Brown, who came along just then." And the rats and the mice can't get at it. It's perfectly safe here," he added. "I've seen that thieving Jay stealing a few grains through the crack, but I guess he is welcome to all he can get that way. No one else can get any [illegible] then he remembered a little verse his mother had taught him when he was a very little fellow and had been boasting what he knew:

Don't be too sure of anything,
For, smart though you may be,
You're sure to find somebody else
Can beat you up the tree.

Which means, of course, that no matter how smart you may think yourself, someone else is just as smart or a little bit smarter. Here was Farmer Brown's boy boasting that no one could steal that corn and here was Chatterer helping himself to all he wanted. Was it any wonder that Chatterer grinned?

Next Story: "Chatterer Frightens Sammy Jay."

"Yes, sir; it certainly is pretty fine corn," said Farmer Brown's boy.

Good Toast Has Many Uses

The expression "warm as toast" means the acme of comfort. Unfortunately such perfection is not always attained in the toast served.

For good toast the bread should be given just enough heat to turn it golden brown, not a streaky black and white. Toast should be fresh and warm when served, to comply with that idea of complete contentment.

Toast is considered an integral part of the average breakfast. Probably there are two reasons for this, first is the ease of preparation, second is because of the warmth. Toast is just as acceptable at other meals as at breakfast.

Small amounts of fowl, fish, meat or vegetable in cream sauce or tomato sauce, poured over a slice of crisp golden toast makes a delicious luncheon or supper dish. If the consistency of the creamed mixture is slightly thicker, toast fingers or points may be used as a garnish with good effect.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture have many good ideas and recipes for dishes using toast.

A quick and toothsome pie may have a toast crust. Slices of bread cut in large triangles to simulate pieces of pie are buttered, sprinkled with sugar and spice and placed on top of canned fruit in a pie plate. The pie is baked in a hot oven, 425F., for 20 minutes or until fruit is hot and bread is crisp and golden brown.

TOMATO FRENCH TOAST

2 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
½ cup condensed tomato soup
6 slices bread
Chopped parsley

Beat eggs until light, add salt, paprika and tomato soup, blending well. Cut crusts from bread and dip in tomato mixture. Fry slices in hot fat until golden brown. Serve piping hot. Garnish with chopped parsley. Six servings.

1¼ cups tomato juice (20-oz. can)
1 can mushroom soup (approx. 1 cup)

¼ cup chopped green pickle
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
¼ teaspoon paprika
Salt and pepper

Cut eggs in quarters and arrange on toast. Brown onion in fat, add flour, blending well. Add tomato juice and cook slowly 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and blend well. Pour sauce over eggs. Six servings.

1 to 2 tablespoons cinnamon

Will Enlarge On Gas Survey

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Jan. 16 (CP)—The present survey of natural gas resources in Alberta is only preliminary and will decide whether a more extensive survey is justified, Lands Minister N. E. Tanner said tonight.

If the reserves are large enough to possibly justify export, a board of engineers will be engaged to make a detailed study and Government policy will be decided following receipt of that report. The present survey is headed by Dr. [illegible] of Ottawa.

Mr. Tanner said export of natural gas to Winnipeg and the Pacific Coast would not be allowed if there was any chance that the reserves would not take care of Alberta's demands in the foreseeable future.

Relatives Save Man Trip Home

MANISTIQUE, Mich., Jan. 16 (AP) Lonely Per Ephraim Anderson, who came to America in an apparently fruitless search for relatives, was about to board a boat in New York today to return to his farm in Sweden when, in the nick of time, the relatives found him.

The 68-year-old farmer had saved his money for 23 years to make the trip to America where, he was sure, some relatives lived. But, on arriving in this country, he searched through the Midwest for five weeks and found no kin.

Discouraged, he had planned to sail from New York today to return to Nlakor in Sweden when four Manistique residents heard of his mission, recognised his name as that of their relative and finally contacted him by telephone and told him to come back to Michigan.

Communists Trap Clergy

HANKOW, (Saturday), Jan. 17 (AP)—Fresh difficulties arose for foreign missionaries fleeing the Communist menace in Central China today when the Reds cut the big Peiping-Hankow trunk railway about 40 miles north of this Government base.

The action isolated Sinyang, 130 miles north of Hankow, where at least six American missionaries with the Lutheran Hospital were preparing to leave for the safety of this Yangtze River city.

Increasing anxiety also was felt for missionaries concentrated at Laohokow, 200 miles northwest of Hankow. The Communists surround the city, and there has been a delay in getting Chinese permission to send a Lutheran mission plane to bring out the missionaries.

The latest message from Laohokow said 26 persons—16 adult Protestants, five children, four Catholic nuns and one priest—were waiting to be flown out.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Jan 16 (AP) Aided by rails, the stock market's overall average managed to shift into the plus column today after six straight generally losing sessions, although numerous leaders were unresponsive.

Short covering and other buying by professionals on the idea a technical revival was imminent provided the principal prop. Most [illegible] persistent skepticism regarding taxes, business, European relief, and possible reinstatement of some price controls.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .2 of a point at 64.2, due entirely to the rail index which was up .3. Industrials and utilities were unchanged. It was the first average advance since January 8. Of 935 issues registering advances totaled 344 and declines 346.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

Thirty industrials, 177.15, up .12.
Twenty rails, 51.41, up .31.
Fifteen utilities, 33.17, up .06.
Sixty-five stocks, 63.83, up .13.
Total sales, 760,000.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, Jan. 16 (CP) Industrials and Western oils were mixed on narrow price changes today, but golds and base metals continued to lag in quiet trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Industrials about balanced gains and losses with foods showing good form while mining stocks were down on a ration of more than three losses to every gain.

Newsprints and steels moved in fractions with the Brown issues regaining a little of yesterday's losses. Utilities and steels moved narrowly without trends, but foods posted a substantial majority of fractional gains. Eureka, Quemont and Waite Amulet moved up modestly in the base metals.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Jan 16 (AP) The steady upward march of grains continued on the Board of Trade today, smashing all-time records for corn and oats and providing a strong market in wheat. Gains were not unusually large, following the pattern of most recent sessions where advances of a few cents had been made.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, Jan 16 (CP)—Fairly liberal selling was reported in oats and barley futures during early trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The selling was prompted by the Government's announcement of ceilings on meat and also lack of information regarding their future policy. Prices showed modest declines at the opening but fair buying by processors and shippers came in at the low levels, and the market recovered slightly.

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE Thomas Mitchell, Selena Royle, Janet Leigh, little Dean Stockwell and Van Johnson are the principals in an explosive scene from M-G-M's dramatic new hit, "The Romance of Rosy Ridge," which ends tonight at the Atlas Theatre. Story of Missouri feud hatreds at the close of the Civil War, by Mackinlay Kantor, the picture offers Johnson the most powerful role of his career and introduces Miss Leigh as M-G-M's new discovery of the year.

CAPITOL THEATRE [illegible] the result of an amazing "invention" whereby plant life can be instantly transformed into an ossified state, was a last-minute addition to the list of fantastic props which are used in Columbia's "Her Husband's Affairs," the Ben Hecht-Charles Lederer comedy about the advertising business which ends tonight at the Capitol Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE Annabella, a vivid gay screen personality as different and alluring as her unusual name, stars with Henry Fonda and Leslie Banks in "Wings of the Morning," Devonshire Films release filmed entirely in magnificent Technicolor, now at the Dominion Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE George Brent obtained time off from work for the whole cast of "Slave Girl," now at the Plaza Theatre, for horseback rides when he convinced Director Charles Lamont there should be an "attraction" between players and their mounts. Brent, who operates racing and breeding stables, contended that horses and humans co-operate better if used to each other. All players ride during considerable footage of the film.

RIO THEATRE Bing Crosby and Bob Hope are funnier than ever in their newest laugh-adventure "Road to Utopia," which ends tonight at the Rio Theatre. The Paramount funfest of course includes Dorothy Lamour and half a dozen top tunes by Johnny Burke and James Van Heusen, including "Welcome to My Dream."

ROYAL THEATRE Maureen O'Hara is co-starred with Rex Harrison in Twentieth Century-Fox's filmization of the sensational Frank Yerby best seller "The Foxes of Harrow." Miss O'Hara plays the role of Odalie, the proud daughter of Creole aristocracy, in the film now showing at the Royal Theatre.

YORK THEATRE Samuel Goldwyn's thrilling film version of "The Hurricane," the famous novel by Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall, who wrote "Mutiny on the Bounty," ends tonight at the York Theatre. "The Hurricane" gives Jon Hall, the handsome young man of magnificent physique, every opportunity to display his abilities. Also starring are Dorothy Lamour and Raymond Massey.

It's Sad But Still True Government Has No Cash

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP). — Don't whisper this around, but the Federal Government hasn't got a nickel in cash to its name.

Now, that may sound funny coming from the capital, where some think $1,000 bills just flutter through the doors of the Bank of Canada, but when it comes to cold, hard cash, the Government is the guy left behind the door.

That doesn't mean, of course, that the Government is going to go bust [illegible] earned Victory Bonds and carry the country into the poorhouse. Not at all. It goes right on paying and paying—but always on paper.

The reason is that the Government, it seems, operates on credit, just like everybody else in these days of high prices.

Without delving too deeply into the intricacies of high finance, the system goes something like this: The taxpayer pays his taxes. The Government deposits that money in the Bank of Canada, its banking agent. The bank puts the money back in circulation, makes a book-keeping notation of so much money received and, there the Government has a credit to its account.

When the Government is on the paying end of the exchange, it issues a cheque which the recipient presents at his bank and for which he receives cash. Then the paying bank and the Bank of Canada make a couple more book-keeping entries and that's that.

And the cheques: Oh — they're authorized when, annually, the Government's estimates are approved by Parliament.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

COMPATIBLE—TO SUFFER TOGETHER'

Philosophers say that no one can lighten anyone else's grief, that in the final analysis when man suffers he is essentially alone. However, the derivation of one word argues against this, the word is compatible, which, broken down etymologically, has the sense of "to suffer together."

Derived from the Low Latin compatibilis, this word goes back to the Latin compati, "to have compassion," from com and pati, "to bear, to suffer."

Another word with the suffix com which exemplifies a certain kind of fellowship is companion, in which is the root panis, "bread"—so that literally a companion is one which whom one shares bread. As to this there is no argument, as in the question of "suffering together"!

However the philosophical contention, the word compatible, which we use to express harmony and accord between people, surely loses nothing in the light of its etymology of "suffering together," but gains perhaps something of a third dimension when used with awareness of this.

SECOND NEWS SECTION

NO. 31—NINETIETH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1948

Roach Tops Janiro In N.Y. Bout

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (CP)—Laverne Roach, a handsome ex-Marine from Plainview, Tex., who was acclaimed "rookie of the year" in 1947, crashed the big-time tonight when he handed Tony Janiro of Youngstown, Ohio, a convincing beating in a 10-round battle at Madison Square Garden. Roach at 155½ pounds had a slim weight advantage over Janiro at 153¾.

It was a unanimous decision for the rugged Texan who was given nine of the 10 rounds by Referee Arthur Donovan and seven of 10 by both judges, Harold Barnes and Arthur Susskind.

Shaking off the best blows that baby-faced Janiro was able to throw, Roach impressed the Garden crowd of 11,924 by an excellent performance in his big-time debut. There were no knockdowns.

The boy tabbed by Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring Magazine, as the best prospect to come along last year and by Former Heavyweight Champion Gene Tunney as the best fighter developed by the Marines in the World War, fought the clever Janiro at close range throughout most of the battle. Blocking Tony's sweeping left hooks, Roach jolted a bruising right to the body but it was Laverne's educated left that made the best impression.

Janiro never had been as heavy as he was tonight in a Garden ring where he suffered his four previous losses in 67 fights.

It was the 18th straight victory for the ex-Marine who has lost only once during his 34-bout pro career.

Hunters Against Lake Drainage Plan at Creston

VANCOUVER, Jan. 16 (CP).—Vancouver sportsmen launched a protest against the proposed draining of Sirdar (Duck) Lake in the Creston district for agricultural purposes at a meeting here last night.

Speakers said the lake is the last feeding ground for all species of waterfowl in British Columbia and a continuous population of 50,000 ducks and about 1,000 geese was evident at the lake last year.

"Fight to prevent the operation should be backed by every sportsman in the province," Harvey Sedgwick, president of the Lower Mainland zone of the British Columbia Fish and Game Protective Association.

The meeting was sponsored by the British Columbia Gun Association under the presidency of Bert Palmer.

Magazine Claims No Sincerity In U.S.S.R. Offer

MOSCOW, Jan. 16 (AP).—The magazine Physical Culture and Sport said today some international athletic organizations do not appear to be sincere in offering membership to Russia.

"Desire of foreign athletes for cooperation with Soviet sportsmen is great," said the article. "However, judging from the behavior of certain federations, one gets the impression all invitations are not sincere in spite of the beautiful flow of phrases."

The article singled out the Skiing Federation, which it said was under sharp attacks from elements who do not count in decisions of the federation's congress to encourage connections with the U.S.S.R.

"In Soviet sport, professionalism and amateurism never was and never will be a problem. Such a situation can only arise in conditions under capitalistic society."

The article, which appeared in the authoritative sport journal, gave no indication whether the Soviet Union was going to participate in the 1948 Olympics.

Stampeders, Caps Win in W.C.H.L.

CALGARY, Jan. 16 (CP).—Defenceman Bud Emery scored with less than two minutes remaining in the third period tonight to give Calgary Stampeders a 6-3 victory over Lethbridge Maple Leafs in a high-scoring Western Canada Senior Hockey League game tonight before more than 5,000 fans.

REGINA, Jan. 16 (CP).—Regina Caps spoiled Saskatoon Quakers' drive to overtake the top three teams in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League tonight by defeating the fourth-place visiting club here tonight, 10-2.

Deny Leonard Applied

[illegible] cials of the St. Charles Country Club tonight denied that Stan Leonard of Vancouver had been one of the applicants for the position of club golf pro here.

Les Beven of Vancouver and Calgary received the appointment January 6.

The denial, made by club official Jack Hopwood, followed earlier denials by Leonard in Vancouver, and resulted from reports that the well-known West Coast professional had been anxious to obtain the job.

"Y" Trio Add Another Record to Imposing List

RECORDS held by Victoria Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club are getting so numerous that statistician is almost necessary. At Seattle last Saturday, club set three new Pacific Northwest records — in 150-yard medley relay and 50 and 100-yard free style events—in winning junior men's meet. Above is trio which smashed relay mark, setting new time of 1:27.6. From left to right are Stan Powell (free style), Doug Stewart (breast stroke) and Eric Jubb (backstroke). Jubb was also responsible for both new free style marks. Coach Archie McKinnon has high hopes that one or more of trio will be able to make Canadian Olympic team. Jubb, now a senior swimmer, is given a great chance of competing at the Olympics.

Mt. Douglas Five In Tie for Lead

Mount Douglas continued to show improved form on the maple courts and moved into a first-place tie with House III in the senior Inter-high basketball standings by virtue of their overwhelming 56-17 triumph over House IV at St. Aidan's Hall yesterday.

The Saanich quintette, sparked by Don McGee who topped the scorers with 18 points, moved into a 23-6 lead at half-time as the losers found trouble locating the basket.

Line-ups follow:

Mount Douglas—Don McGee 16, Dennis McGee 6, Emery 11, Levis 11, Cook 10, Palin, Reid 3. Total 56.

House IV—Wagg, Rapanos 2, Robb 3, Singh 8, Stewart 2, Ritchie 1, Robertson. Total 17.

U. S. PAIR ADVANCES

MELBOURNE, Jan. 16 (AP).—Jim Brink and Eddie Moylan of the United States scored an easy doubles victory today in the opening round of the Australian National Tennis Championships, eliminating the West Australian pair of W. Wasley and J. Blacklock, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3.

Grant Watson Rink Cops Autos in Nipawin 'Spiel

NIPAWIN, Sask., Jan. 16 (CP)—Grant Watson of Winnipeg tonight won the $23,000 Nipawin Bonspiel's grand prize of four 1948-model automobiles when he defeated Crawford Hicks, also of Winnipeg, 17-3 in the second game of their best-of-three final series.

Watson won the first game this afternoon 10-6 in one of the nine-day 'spiel's closest matches, but in the night encounter there was no doubt about his supremacy from the start.

He took a five-point lead in the first end, increased it to six in the second, allowed Hicks one in the third, then split singles on the next two brought the game to a finish on the eighth.

When the last rock was thrown in the Watson-Hicks final the bonspiel—richest of its kind in the world—came to an end. Earlier today the Campbell family rink from Avonlea, Sask., won the No. 3 event final and Willard Cleveland of Fairlight, Sask., took the consolation event.

Two other Winnipeggers, Howard Wood and Jimmy Welsh, had previously been declared Nos. 1 and 2 event champions. Last year Wood won the automobiles at the Nipawin 'spiel in its inaugural showing while Welsh topped all curlers in the Dominion to win the Canadian curling title.

In the No 3 and consolation events the Campbell's defeated Bill Dunbar of Kinley, Sask., 8-6 while Cleveland easily triumphed over Ole Olson of Edmonton 8-2.

Bonspiel winners follow

Major Award—Grant Watson, Winnipeg. Runner-up, Crawford Hicks, Winnipeg.

No. 1 Event—1, Howard Wood, Winnipeg; 2, Crawford Hicks, Winnipeg; 3, Lawrence Borreson, Antler, Sask.; 4, Dr. H. E. McKellar, Carlyle, Sask.

No. 2 Event—1, Jimmy Welsh, Winnipeg; 2, Rene Lavoy, Choiceland, Sask.; 3, Bert Robertson, Edmonton; 4, Billy Rose, Sedgewick, Alta.

No. 3 Event—1, L. H. Campbell, Avonlea, Sask.; 2, Bill Dunbar, Kinley, Sask., 3, Norman Taylor, Lang, Sask.; 4, Grant Watson, Winnipeg.

Toronto Miss Seeks Games Skating Title

TORONTO, Jan. 16 (CP).—A dark-eyed champion who may prove to be the dark horse of Canadian figure skating and a threat to Barbara Ann Scott will leave here tomorrow for a try at Olympic figure skating glory.

If determination plays a part, Marilyn Ruth Take, 18-year-old Canadian amateur champion, will be at or near the top in both the Olympics and the world championships. The pretty brunette has spent 11 years of gruelling practice at the Toronto Skating Club.

Marilyn Ruth was notified only three weeks ago she would represent Canada at St. Moritz, Switzerland, in the forthcoming Olympics. Since then she's been devoting eight hours a day to school figures and exercises, hoping to do well enough in the Olympics to earn a try in the world championships.

Coached by Otto Gold, who tutored Barbara Ann at Ottawa's Minto Club, Marilyn Ruth will switch coaches for the trip and will be accompanied by Toronto's Osborne Colson, former Canadian senior champion.

Twice a close runner-up to Barbara Ann in the Canadian championships, Marilyn Ruth's efforts divert to diving and sailing in the Summer.

Annual Fivepin Meet Scheduled Wednesday

The annual meeting of the Victoria Fivepin Bowling Association will be held at Gibson's Bowladrome on Wednesday at 8 p.m. Election of officers for the coming year will take place and arrangements for the city tournament will be made.

All leagues are asked to have representatives in attendance.

Harrison Maintains Advantage As Top Golfers Find Par Easy

RICHMOND, Calif., Jan. 16 (AP).—Coupling a five-under-par 67 today to his first round course-record-setting 65, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., posted a total of 132 to retain his lead at the halfway mark of the 72-hole Richmond $10,000 open golf tournament.

The lean six-footer, playing in a championship form, clubbed himself into a commanding position at the end of the first 36 holes. He walloped the back nine [illegible] a sen- [illegible] par figures on the outgoing trip for a 38.

Par for the 6,400 yard rolling acreage is 37-35-72. Harrison turned in a 35-30 yesterday, a new competitive record here.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver shot a par 72 for a total of 143, while Frank Zack of Windsor, Ont., turned in a 76 to give him a total figure of 151.

Leonard was the only Canadian to qualify for the final 36 holes tomorrow and Sunday as scores of 146 or lower qualified 56 professionals. Fourteen amateurs will complete the field.

United States Open Champion Lew Worsham just made it with 73-73—146.

Harrison's second round gave him a three-stroke lead over Ed Furgol, and Felice Torza, Torrington, Conn., who posted totals of 135. Furgol held fairly close to the pace with a 68. Torza came in with a fine 67. [illegible], New York amateur, who said he is toying with the idea of going into the pro ranks, racked up his second 68 for a two-day total of 136.

Sam Snead had a 68 and a 36-hole count of 139. The man with the knickers and special gate attraction, Bobby Locke of South Africa, held an unwavering pace to shoot his second round of 70, giving him a total 140 and a deadlock with high money winner of 1947, Jim Demaret, Jim Turnesa, and amateur Frank Stranahan.

Games Team Again Hit By Injuries

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Jan. 16 (CP).—While an eight-inch blanket of snow here hampered practice sessions of hundreds of competitors from 30 countries entered in the Winter Olympics, word from the "Little Canada" headquarters of the injury-riddled Canadian skiing team at nearby Davos was grim.

Latest victim among the Canadians was Rhoda Wurtele of Montreal who cracked a bone in her right ankle while skiing Thursday and will be unable to take to the snow for probably a week.

The Canadian team suffered a serious blow four days ago when Pierre Jalbert of Quebec, the Dominion's leading hope for the downhill ski event, broke his leg while training and will be unable to compete.

Jalbert's hospital roommate is Tony Aslangul, 24-year-old Australian, who also broke his leg and is about the saddest person in this Continental Winter playground. Flat on his back and flat broke, the Australian told how he spent 30 days on a cargo ship "the cheapest ride I could buy after being denied permission to work my way."

While keeping their misery company, Jalbert and Aslangul have hatched a plan to work their way to Chile to compete in races there next Summer.

Meanwhile, Rhona Wurtele, Rhoda's twin sister, kept up with the men today in a sun-up to sun-down schedule of downhill training in the fresh snow, and Louis Cochand of St. Margaret's, Que., team manager, kept his fingers crossed that there would be no more serious mishaps until the Canadians leave Davos, January 23.

The workout marked the return to action of Bill Irwin of Princeton, B.C., who was out ten days with a head injury.

At St. Moritz, the Canadian speed skaters, Frank Stack and Gordon Audley, both of Winnipeg, who are entered in the Swiss championships this week-end, were unable to practice because of snow-covered skating rinks.

Select Line-Up To Oppose Colored Cagers

Secretary Hank Casilla of the Victoria and District Basketball Association last night announced the following all-star line-up to oppose the Broadway Clowns in the exhibition game at the Victoria High School gymnasium next Wednesday.

Gar Taylor of Eagles was named coach of the squad and will have the following players at his disposal—Ellis, Clarkson, Joyce, Hall, and Singh from the Alcos, and Slang, Tooby, Long, Ranson and Browning from Eagles.

The game will start at 8 p.m. and will be preceded by a Senior "A" league game between Y.M.C.A. and Canadian Legion at 7:15 p.m.

Warriors Trim Sooke

Ivan Temple's Warriors journeyed to Sooke Wednesday night and trounced the rural intermediate "B" cage quintette, 65-17, in an exhibition basketball game. Winners led 26-8 at the half and poured 24 points through the hoop in the third canto. Bruce Auchinvole led the scorers with 16 points.

The three leading teams in the Bowladrome Mixed Tenpin League all swept three straight games in league play this week to maintain their positions in the league standings.

Bowladrome, led by Marge Beaney with 564, took three games from Rangers to protect their one-game lead. The second-place five, The Spits, won three from the cellar-dwelling Atomics, and Lucky Strikes, in third place, swept three from Happy Gang.

In the Mixed Fivepin League Dynamiters and Five Aces made clean sweeps. Howard Butler of Dynamiters topped the trundlers with a three-game total of 823, followed by Cy Wallis of Five Aces with 816, May White of Dynamiters topped the feminine bowlers with 742.

Set for Important Match Today

GEOFF D'EASUM

ALBIE WILLIAMS

MACDONALD PARK will be scene of crucial McKechnie Cup Rugby match today when Victoria Crimson Tide attempts to upset highly-favored University of British Columbia Thunderbirds. Each club copped first match against Vancouver Lions, Varsity by 6-3 count and Tide by 3-3. Coach Campbell Forbes will count on D'Easum at scrum-half to give his speedy three line chance to get away on long runs while Williams is expected to play usual steady game in scrum. Rugby officials announced last night that U.B.C. "B" fifteen was unable to make boat connections and their scheduled match with Victoria College has been canceled. Feature match will get under way at 2.30 with Canadian Scottish and Fifth Regiment intermediates meeting in opening match at 1.30.

Haddad, Baich In Rousing Three-Rounder

James Bay Boxing Club was the host club last night at Prince Robert House when the Greater Victoria Boxing Association presented its regular weekly program of bouts. Over 300 fans packed every available space and dozens more were turned away at the door.

Main attraction for fistic followers last night was the appearance of Eddie Haddad, P.N.W. Golden Gloves champion. Haddad was matched against Benny Baich in a feature three-round bout which wound up the 10-bout card.

Baich, a newcomer from Saskatchewan, held a pull in weights over the classy Navy scrapper but lacked the condition and experience to cope with Haddad and lost the decision after a rousing bout. There was little to choose between the two fighters in the first round but Baich floored Haddad with a solid right to the chin in the second and scored with some hard body punching.

However, Haddad came out in the third to make certain of the decision and had much the best of the round as he displayed some of the form which made him the best at his weight in the Pacific Northwest last year. Baich forgot his mouthpiece in the final round and a smash on the mouth by the Navy scrapper drew blood. Both contestants are expected to enter the Vancouver Island Golden Gloves and may meet again in the finals of the welterweight division.

Other bouts provided their share of action for the crowd, making up in enthusiasm what they lacked in artistry.

Bengart Heads Soccer Group

VANCOUVER, Jan. 16 (CP).—The 1948 British Columbia Soccer Commission formally organized today will be headed by chairman Blackie Bengart and composed of Members Bob Kenmuir, Jock Hendry, Tommy Nelson and John Richardson.

Nelson is a former Coast Soccer League president, while Bengart, Hendry and Richardson are holdovers from last year's commission.

Duties of the commission include supervisory control of all soccer games in the Province from the Coast League down to the juvenile loops.

To Defend Buttons

Danny McLean and Stan Nixon of Uplands Golf Club will defend their junior golf buttons against the challenge of Bob Fleming and Bob Herbertson of Gorge Vale on Sunday.

Club Asks Board For More Courts

The Optimist Club yesterday asked the City Parks Board and all service clubs for support in obtaining more hard-surface tennis courts in the city.

The club informed Alderman M. A. Kent, chairman of the Parks Board, that 200 children attended the Summer classes last year and that 500 are expected this Summer. It is hoped that the grass courts at Stadacona Park may be hard-surfaced to provide facilities for the youngsters.

It was pointed out that Toronto has 270 hard courts and Vancouver 101, while Victoria has only two.

A junior tournament will be staged in the latter part of the Summer if facilities are available.

Olympic Team Plays 5-5 Tie In Exhibtion

LONDON, Jan. 16 (CP)—R.C.A.F. Flyers, Canadian hockey representatives in the Winter Olympics, battled Streatham, rated one of the best teams in the British National League, to a 5-5 tie tonight

Failure to capitalize on numerous opportunities when the opposition was short handed cost the Flyers game of a European tour prior to Olympic competition this month at St Moritz, Switzerland

After the game, Frank Boucher, coach of the Flyers, said that "it was only a fair show but we'll do better when we shake our sea legs

The Canadians arrived in Britain aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth on Wednesday night.

Boucher said the Flyers faded in the final ten minutes of play and a momentary lapse allowed Bud McEachran of Charlottetown, P.E.I., to score the tying goal, his third of the evening

First-period goals by Red Hibbard of Ottawa and Wally Halder of Toronto gave the Flyers an early lead which they failed to hold While Louis Lecompte of Ottawa was serving a penalty late in the period, Streatham pushed through quick goals by George Drysdale of Toronto and English-born Chuck Turner to even the count

Midway through the second period Halder scored his second goal to give the R.C.A.F. a 3-2 lead but Streatham wiped the margin out when McEachran tallied twice within 20 seconds. Orval Gravelle of Aylmer Que youngest member of the Canadian team, then tied the game at 4-4 Gravelle's goal was a hard shot which caught a narrow opening to beat Streatham's Windsor, Ontario-born goalie Monty Reynolds.

Then Gravelle scored again within 20 seconds to give the Flyers a 5-4 advantage as the middle session ended

Detroit Goalie Likes It Rough; May Set Record for Penalties

By MEL SUFFRIN

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 16 (CP) — Listen to a hockey goaltender being interviewed over the air and the odds are that one sure question will be: "Who do you find the most dangerous forward in the league?"

If Harry Lumley, Detroit Red Wings netminder, has his way, however, they'll be asking the forwards: "Who do you think is the most dangerous goalie in the league?"

The answer will invariably be Harry Lumley

Doug (Windsor Star) Vaughan suggests that any National Hockey League forward will tell you "You are asking for a stiff body jolt or a rap on the noggin if you dare to invade Mr Lumley's home meaning the goal crease."

Currently the Red Wing twine tender is the leading bad man among all the goalies in the N.H.L. He has drawn four minor penalties for a total of eight minutes

"Continuing at his present pace," says Vaughan, "Lumley could set a modern record for penalties handed out to goalies during the course of a season."

The robust 200-pounder from Owen Sound Ont who has four years in the majors behind him although only 21, can't resist the urge to get into virtually every brawl that takes place on the ice

Vaughan records how Lumley complained that goaltenders don't see enough action

"The defencemen and the forwards have all the fun," Harry declares "They can hit and get hit but us poor goalies are on the receiving end all the time

Vaughan recalls one free-for-all at the Olympia when Lumley skated the length of the ice looking for a tussle

"He tried in vain to horn in on several slugfests but finally had to settle on the rival goalie, Turk Broda of Toronto Maple Leafs

"Lumley, despite the burden of 35 pounds of goal-tending equipment, took off in a swan dive that brought the Toronto goalie down and ended up with the two of them rolling on the ice like a couple of grizzly bears

NO STEAK

IT HAS BEEN ESTIMATED that a family of four on $18 a week can feed themselves [illegible] & never a steak for the dinner. And a man needs an income over $80 a week to live in the City & not become weak. With 2 children of school age he now needs this approx. wage. And only 4 eggs a week on this family [illegible] for each member of the family. Wanna try it? But only cheap cuts can U eat, like stew, hamburger & sausage meat. With just a smidge of butter for your soup, & ONLY the cream from the bottle top. Below is the menu for your $18 a week. I've looked it over . . . It's a pretty Meek. But before U look may we come to a plug. If you're $80 left, we have YOUR rug. Floral Axminsters on blue or rose ground, just arrived from England, we've just un-wound. In only ONE size . . . 7-6 by 9, as SHOW you'll see. HOW LOVELY . . . THAT'S MINE. Now here you are with this budget preview, this $18 a week family of 4 steakless menu.

40X MISCELLANEOUS

HAS NOT CHANGED HANDS
A number of our old customers seem quite surprised to see me "that is Mack," when they come into the store. Although most everyone thought Mack was just the workman or employee, he was always a partner of this business. Therefore the change which really has taken place is that I am alone in the business with naturally the better half and three sons, who in a short time will be doing their best to help us keep doing business with our old customers and also the many new ones we hope to serve.

He Trisects Angle

Charles O. Johnston, Chicago mechanical engineer, demonstrates how he trisected angle in Chicago recently in little over minute, using ruler and draftsman's compass. However, mathematicians at the University of Chicago said he didn't follow all rules laid down by ancient Greek geometrician Euclid—who said it couldn't be done.

Claims Officers In Black Market

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16 (AP) — A maritime union official has charged that masters and pursers of American merchant vessels were making "small fortunes" in foreign black market transactions.

The charge was made before a United States Maritime Commission examiner by Vincent J. Malone, president of the Marine Firemen's Union, in the course of a hearing on wage scales for Government-subsidized ships.

The "racket," Malone said, involves ship payroll money.

The method, he charged, was to pay men in the currency of the foreign port by exchanging the ship's United States dollars in the money black market. The men, however, are paid at the official exchange rate — always considerably less than the black market rate—leaving a substantial profit for the ship's officers, Malone charged.

AN APPLE FOR EVE

by KATHLEEN NORRIS

One evening Chris took them to a new play, and afterward he and Fanny and Loveday went back to her dressing-room to meet the star.

"Chris, I hear you've bought Sam Barnard's beautiful place down at Oyster Bay," said the beautiful Jayne Pomeroy.

"All mine now, Jenny," Chris said.

"Oh perfect! And when do you go back to [illegible] in Los Angeles next week, you know."

"I go tonight," Chris said.

"Tonight!" Fanny protested when they three were out in the dark street again. "You do not! Was that what mother was talking to you about in her room before dinner? I heard her say that she thought you ought to go back and I almost died."

"Your little habit of eavesdropping, Fanny, would make you invaluable to the F.B.I.," Chris said amiably.

Loveday had been stricken to the heart, she could not speak. Her hands were icy and her throat dry. Oh, she had known it had to end but not so soon!

"Mother suggested that I get to work," Chris said, talking over his shoulder as he drove home. Something in the grimness of his tone gave Loveday fresh fear. Why had Aunt Laura felt this, how had she put it to him?

"Was mother mad?" Fanny asked amazed.

"Not at all. She simply turned me out in the snow that was all. So I'm off, well, not tonight," Chris said, "but so early that you ladies will be still dreaming about me."

"Chris," Loveday said, delaying him just a second with her hand on his arm when they were in the hallway at home, "do I—am I—are you taking me back to Indian Hill with you tomorrow? I have to go home."

"No, too early for you," he answered lightly, not looking at her as he freed his arm and slipped out of his coat. "Mother reminded me that Hugh comes in tomorrow to see Dr. Barnes, and he'll take you home."

Subdued and tired, Loveday packed her bags the next afternoon and started for home with Hugh.

"Loveday," said Hugh as he drove steadily along through the warm hazy Autumn afternoon, "have you the slightest idea about getting hold of Della Dillon? Come to life, my dear! I'm asking you if you have any idea about getting hold of Della Dillon? The maid who was in grandfather's house for years."

"I beg your pardon, darling! I was half asleep. Della Dillon? No, because, you see, she married and went away and simply disappeared into space. I was away at school, anyway, when she went. Why, do you think she knows anything?"

"[illegible] events and why I think she does. She was a fine girl, wasn't she?"

"As far as I know she was. Yes, she certainly was. Nobody could seem as simple and honest and conscientious as Della and be anything else."

"Then she didn't steal the money, did she?"

"Oh, heavens, no!"

"Exactly. Well, here's what happens. I'm but a small child of not quite five years old, evidently not smart enough to identify myself when I'm picked up by a man and a woman in a car a few days later."

"Feverish, frightened, starving, what would you expect of a poor scrap that age? That's the twins' age—mere babies."

"Well anyway, I'm smuggled off overseas, and my grandfather offers a thousand dollars for information that will lead to my recovery. This man Al Harris conceives the brilliant scheme of nabbing one of the little units my mother sends to the hospital and faking a body—either by odds and ends of bones he picks up in the laboratory or by actually getting hold of some child's corpse."

"You think that's what he did?"

"Sure of it."

"What could they do to him?"

"Well, I don't know. It's a rather an unusual crime. It's obtaining money under false pretenses, to say the least, but it would be awfully hard to prove that twenty-five years ago he lifted a body from the hospital if he chose to deny it. I don't know who'd want to do it, I wouldn't."

"He wouldn't have murdered some child?"

"No, thank God," Hugh said. "In America the poorest little scrap of babyhood can't disappear without causing considerable fuss. He'd have been caught at that. He didn't have to murder anyone. But through the years he had his eye on it, especially when years later the old man became a little weak-minded and perhaps told Harris at the hospital that he didn't trust any investments or any banks and that the only thing to do with money was hide it somewhere."

"At the end grandfather told everyone that. There was no secret in that."

"But he never told anyone where he put the money?"

"Not that I know of. No, for mother and grandmother talked of it—happened to, just a few days before they died."

"That money would be a swell thing to find, Loveday."

You'd be surprised, she thought wearily, "how little I care about it!" Aloud she said, "To build the hospital?"

"Not only that. You'd have enough, perhaps, to live nicely at the old place for life."

"Until you sued me for half of it, Hugh," she said affectionately.

"Until I brought suit, of course. I probably would," he replied, smiling. "Harris thinks Della Dillon knows something about that money."

"Did he say so?"

"No, but he gave me a clue."

"You and your clues!"

"He keeps hinting that it would be to Della Dillon's advantage to get in touch with him. But the truth is he wants to get in touch with her. Mrs. O'Connor, who manages the laundry at the hospital, told me he had some authority from the old Doc that Della had questioned. She dislikes Harris and says he was a sneak and a spy all the time he was in the hospital."

"I suppose a detective bureau could ferret Della out—"

"I suppose so. But it doesn't seem fair to her to go about it that way. She's evidently taken great pains to lose herself. Harris—I've seen him several times—keeps harping on the little trunk she took away with her, one of grandfather's trunks. She had a small leather bag and a big broken old bag fastened with new straps and this chest or trunk."

"What was in the trunk? Oh the money? Of course. But Della couldn't have quietly packed a trunk with hundreds of thousands of dollars and walked away with them right under grandfather's nose, could she?"

"Unless he told her to take them somewhere and leave them for him. You see how inconspicuously an extra trunk of hers could have been gotten out of the house?"

* * * * * * *

"Boss telephone," Annie Lum said, welcoming Loveday home.

"Boss telephone?" Loveday echoed incredulously, shocked into sudden interest.

"Last night. Wing Foo here," Annie further contributed.

"What say?"

Larry had telephoned, finding her away with the St. Georges and the children in complete charge of Annie Lum! Loveday's heart beat nervously. Where had he been? What was the cause of the telephone call?

"Him yellow paper," Annie elucidated.

"Oh, telegram? They telephoned a telegram? What say?"

"Come lunch today, two flends," Annie said.

"He was coming to lunch today with two friends? Then he must be near! He didn't come, Annie!"

"No come." Annie was sousing baby linen up and down in a small wooden tub placed on the sink. Loveday studied her fine, wise, ivory face for a few minutes in perplexity, then went to the telephone. The telegram was readily repeated to her: "Expect me and two friends lunch Thursday. Love to all. Larry."

It had been sent from Chicago. They must have been flying. They had probably reached Mills Field some time in the morning and taken the bus to Indian Hill.

But Larry had had no answer to his telegram and he had not come. Loveday was aghast at the mischance.

She was startled by the sound of the telephone bell. There was another telegram for her. Loveday's spirit eased itself into complete relief and thankfulness as she grasped its meaning.

"Grounded in Cheyenne," it said. "Expect three of us for lunch Saturday. Sorry about delay. Love, Larry."

Saturday, day after tomorrow! Everything was all right again.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Being Sensitive to Foods Causes Stomach Intestinal Symptoms

By DR. J. S. WARREN

Some foods cause allergic symptoms in stomach, gall bladder and small intestine. These symptoms can be relieved by a hypodermic injection of adrenalin (epinephrine) but the offending food should be sought. If the food causing the symptoms is one greatly needed by the body the physician first gives a very small quantity, gradually increasing it until the patient is able to eat the amount eaten by normal individuals without having symptoms. Sometimes washing out lower bowel—high enema—gives relief.

Fine Island Turkeys To Be Shipped East

Vancouver Island turkey raisers put feathers in their caps this week and jumped from a local business into the export trade

The first export shipment of Island turkeys passed inspection Monday and is now in cold storage at Ogden Point Docks awaiting shipment to Eastern Canada and United States markets.

The shipment is three carloads, 2,500 young tom "heavyweights"—more than 20 pounds each—weighing a total of 62,205 pounds

Poultry men expect to ship considerable foal to the United States in the next few weeks to build up an export trade and put the business on a year-round footing.

The turkeys came from Esquimalt, Saanich, Metchosin, Duncan and northern points, and were prepared for shipment and inspection by the Vancouver Island Poultry Co-operative Association, assisted by the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association. It is the first time that turkeys have been offered here for inspection and shipment to other points, and officials say it reverses the past situation when the Prairies were a main source of supply.

W. E. Hagger, Dominion egg and poultry inspector for Vancouver Island, asserted he was well satisfied with the quality of the birds and the method of packing and grading for inspection

He said egg producers and turkey raisers on the Island were now in a position to compete in quality with any market in the world, and that there was no reason why Vancouver Island should not continue to sell quality poultry products for export

The turkeys were packed in 650 boxes, 368 boxes with 36,215 pound of grade A turkeys, and 282 boxes with 25,987 pounds of grade B birds. The inspection was 100 per cent, every box being opened. Swift-Canadian Co., Ltd., was the buyer

Cost of Schools Set at 8.6 Mills

COBBLE HILL, Jan. 16 — The taxation, educational and public works committees of the South Cowichan Taxpayers' Association met this week to compile figures on the estimated cost of a school building program under the Plantagenet District scheme for the South Cowichan area. The figures cover the cost of a new six-room high school, with buildings to accommodate manual and domestic arts and agricultural courses, a two-room school at Bench, and a one-room school at Malahat Beach. The work could be done for a tax rate of 8.6 mills, against the 11.20 mills now charged.

The figures were compiled in answer to questions asked at a general meeting of the organization when several speakers asked what alternative was being offered if the Plantagenet school scheme went through, in the event of the by-law for Cowichan School District No 65 being defeated.

Another question asked was why the school board had declined to reopen two rooms in the southern area, not being used at present. The rooms could be used to accommodate Grades VII and VIII for junior high school work, thus relieving the congestion in the elementary schools. The answer given was that equipment necessary for a full course for those grades was not available, whereupon several speakers indignantly demanded that such necessary equipment be purchased with money already provided by this area, and let the children have the benefit of it instead of waiting at least two years until the new buildings were completed at Duncan. A motion was passed that the board again be asked to reopen the schoolrooms in question.

The committees also arranged for voting on the school by-law to take place on January 23 Voting will be done at Bench, Cobble Hill, Mill Bay and Sylvania Schools, also at the Masonic Hall.

Ladysmith Seeks Ruling on Motion

LADYSMITH, Jan. 16—Dissatisfaction with Mayor Leonard Ryan's appointment of standing committees for 1948 was expressed by Ald. F. Johnston at a regular meeting of the City Council. He moved that the list as appointed be rejected on the grounds he felt he had not been fairly treated. Some argument ensued as to whether such a motion was in order, and the matter was laid on the table until a ruling can be obtained from an authoritative source.

Preliminary discussion on a new Provincial Police contract with the council will not take place before next Monday at the earliest. The commissioner has already submitted proposed contract rates, but the City Council has several points it wishes cleared up before the arrangement is accepted.

A review of garbage problems and collection costs forecast an increased garbage rate for 1948, and more stringent regulations governing collection practices and the use of the city garbage dump.

Two by-laws were given their third readings One was for the prepayment of taxes and the other to authorize the borrowing of $3,000 from the bank

A public works report noted wet weather had caused considerable street and ditch damage and prevented much new street work being undertaken. Lack of snowfall on the Stocking Lake watershed is causing the waterworks committee some concern, while the report of the electric light committee commented on low voltage, some power interruptions and the need for additional transformer capacity.

The city clerk was asked to bring in a report on the necessary steps for the introduction of a business tax, specifically concerning retail beer-selling establishments.

C D. Orchard, deputy minister of forests, told delegates that the application for a 200,000-acre timber management licence made by the Canadian Western Timber Company would, in his opinion, almost certainly be approved He said that if the company completed plans for a $20,000,000 pulp mill at Duncan Bay, it would use salvaged slash—the residue left after logging—for the first 25 years, and at the end of that time reproduction on the logged-over areas of the big claim would have reached a point where it could take care of mill needs If there was not a sufficient amount of suitable timber land on the claim, he favored the idea of going outside to make it up.

Mr Orchard reassured the small operators during his talk They would, he said, have every opportunity to survive and prosper, if they were hardy enough to stand the pressure of normal business conditions.

Operators declared that what they feared most was the long-term licences, which would go on indefinitely without any chance to revoke them They claimed too much depended on the integrity of the administrator.

All agreed that some form of forest management must be instituted, but that there should be more provision for keeping control of the claims, to obviate the possibility of a few large companies [illegible] and holding it in perpetuity.

HOW A DIETITIAN BUDGETS MEALS to meet today's rising prices!

'HOW CAN I ECONOMIZE MORE?'—that's a question hundreds of women have asked in my Cooking Classes! So let's see what can be done about it.

"In the first place, meat usually takes the largest single slice from your food budget. So buying cheaper cuts of beef is a big money-saver! And you can make these meats tastier and more nourishing by adding vegetables and seasoning. Of course, vegetables are now scarce—and high-priced! But I find Aylmer Vegetable Soup is excellent in many recipes—and it's the most economical way to add vegetables to a meal.

"Here are some meals I've planned around these money-savers—inexpensive meats and Aylmer Soups. These meals supply good nourishment and were voted "most delicious" by my family—yet cost around 20c, or less, per person."

He admitted he had been convicted for the same offence in Feb-[illegible]

Constable L T Kamann testified he had been taken by Giardin in a taxi to a Blanshard Street address where he had been sold a bottle of rye whisky for $6.

Sgt. P Atkinson testified he had later gone to the same address, accompanied by Inspector John Howe, Constables George Buckle and Kamman and had removed eight bottles of whisky from a clothes closet.

David Sloan appeared for the defendant.

Poor Weather Ends Search For Aircraft

Search for the missing Trans-Canada Air Lines plane which disappeared last April with 12 passengers and three crew members was temporarily abandoned yesterday due to poor weather conditions.

The hunt was started when Capt James Salome, a Vancouver fisherman, reported picking up in his nets what he believed part of a wing of the big craft in the Trincomali Channel off Salt Spring Island in Georgia Strait.

Boats of the R.C.A.F. and naval ships made a sweep of the area Thursday, and it is planned to resume the search next week.

A spokesman for the R.C.A.F. said there is sufficient indication of a possible "strike" to warrant a continuation of operations.

It was later indicated an "object" was found during the search but its identity was not disclosed.

Installation of New Radio Receiver Recommended by Police Commission

Request for permission to install a radio receiver linking Greater Victoria police radio with the Provincial Police network at an estimated cost of $400 will be sent to the City Council by the police commission, it was decided yesterday.

The commission received a report stating that the Provincial Police had already ordered a receiver which would pick up the city police broadcast. The set to be purchased by the city would allow city police to listen in on Provincial Police calls.

Supporting the request yesterday, Mayor Percy E George, commission chairman, said the receiver would supply the missing link between the two good police radio systems.

Commissioner B J Gadsden recalled that Oak Bay and Saanich, which both use the city police frequency and would benefit equally with Victoria, had refused to participate in the purchase of the new receiver but held out hope that they could be approached again.

TO TAKE COURSE

Commission decided to send Detective Dave Donaldson to the special five-week course on criminal investigation given by the Provincial Police. The course covers all phases of detective work and includes lectures by members of the F.B.I., the Attorney-General's Department, Department of Mines analysts, and prominent pathologists. Only one member of the city police is accepted for the course which starts in February.

Tenders will be received for supplying two typewriters, two motorcycles, one patrol wagon and one new prowler car as well as 66 uniforms, 136 shirts, 15 overcoats and 130 ties. Tenders will also be called for a hot water heater which is now surplus to the requirements of the department.

Request of the Vancouver Island Division of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railwaymen and Other Transport Workers for rigid, periodical mechanical inspection of all motor vehicles was tabled when it was pointed out the equipment required might cost up to $70,000 or $80,000.

Noting that the Provincial Police Department conducts such tests in Vancouver, the commission instructed Acting Chief John Blackstock to confer with Provincial officials concerning the possibility of introducing similar equipment here.

Government Refuses Request For Pensioners' Living Bonus

Following discussions with a delegation yesterday, Provincial Government turned down an application for cost-of-living bonuses for retired provincial civil servants.

It is understood that reason for the rejection was that granting of bonuses to superannuated civil servants would establish a precedent, leaving the Province open to applications for assistance from other superannuated employees.

Seeking a better deal for pensioned Government employees, a delegation from B.C. Retired Civil Servants' Association met Cabinet yesterday morning. It asked the Government to:

1. Grant a cost-of-living bonus on the same basis as that given to working civil servants.

2. Establish a fixed minimum pension according to length of service to rectify hardships suffered by those receiving lowest superannuations.

Attention was drawn to difficulties now being experienced by those compelled to live on small fixed incomes, and the Government was told it was scarcely just that while cost-of-living bonus was paid to those enjoying substantial salaries it was denied to those whose incomes were restricted.

Spokesman for the delegation was A. B. Tyrer, association president. Other members, all of Victoria, were James Murton, secretary; Miss Mabel Cameron, Miss T. Taylor, Mrs. L. C. Sweeney, Miss Lottie Bowron, A. H. Manson, Jack Logie, E. C. Moyer, John Naysmith and George Ingledew.

Clark of the chemistry department as chairman, it was announced yesterday. The symposium will be open to the public and speakers have been chosen from the student body.

B. R. Cicci, student chapter president, will be first speaker, defining chemo-therapy and giving the early history of the subject followed by a discussion of the Ehrlich concepts, those of Von Behring, Domagk and Prontosil and their work with salvarsan and sulfanilamide.

A. R. P. Paterson will then deal with the relation of chemical structure to therapeutic activity and with the various sulfa drugs and their specific effectiveness.

C. P. Sallam will compare bacteriostasis as compared with chemical poison concepts and the role of paraaminobenzoic acid in bacterial metabolism.

Final speaker on the program will be Miss Constance Armstrong, discussing penicillin and other substances.

Demonstrations of molecular structure and of the effect of streptomycin, penicillin and the sulfas upon pathogenic cultures will be given during the talks.

Army of Girls Will Aid in Campaign To Help Prevent B.C. Forest Fires

During the coming Summer a new army will take to the field in British Columbia in the battle to prevent forest fires—an army of girls sponsored by Canadian Forestry Association. They will be known as "Girl Forest Guards."

The girls will be recruited from high schools and junior high schools, and their task will be similar to [illegible] to do their utmost to "keep our forests green."

Junior wardens were organized throughout the Province by Canadian Forestry Association in 1930, and the red shirts and frontiersmen's hats of boys selected from schools throughout the forest areas of the province have become a familiar sight in the fire season.

In recognition of its work to conserve the forests, the association receives an annual grant from British Columbia Government, increased to $3,000 last year from the $2,000 approved in 1946. It receives assistance also from the forest industry.

In preparation for recruiting of girl forest guards this year, the association for some time has been training a leader nucleus.

Aim is to educate girls to be careful with fire and to help protect natural resources, so that in later years they will be instrumental in instilling these ideas in the minds of the next generation.

It is felt that girls should play as big a part as boys in fire protection and forest conservation, since [illegible]

Although girl forest guards will have the same objectives as the junior forest wardens, they will form an organization entirely separate from that of the boys. It is planned to form the girls into groups to study woodcraft, forestry, first aid, signalling, photography, mapwork, swimming and lifesaving in addition to gaining a love of the outdoors from hikes, camps and outdoor sports.

In charge of the program for girls will be Mrs. W. F. Myring, wife of the chief warden of the junior forest wardens, with headquarters in Vancouver. Mrs. Myring has been [illegible] for the past two years.

Recruits must be between the ages of 13 and 16 years. Applications to join the "G.F.G." should be directed to Canadian Forestry Association, 509 Burrard Street, Vancouver.

Orders Term Suspended

Magistrate Henry C Hall found a young man guilty yesterday on a charge of making false statements to obtain unemployment insurance benefits but imposed a suspended sentence after expressing the opinion that the offence, as committed, did not merit a jail sentence.

A conviction calls for a prison term with no option of a fine.

Defendant claimed he had misunderstood the regulations and had [illegible]tain money by giving false information. He said he had since paid back the money in question. He claimed "mother-in-law trouble" had contributed to the loss of his job and had rendered him in a very agitated state of mind at the time.

Russians Face Visa Troubles

VANCOUVER, Jan. 16 (CP) — United States visas for foreigners entering U.S. from here are extremely difficult to obtain, Vancouver shipping men declared today

Except in the cases of persons of diplomatic status, they reported, it is almost impossible to obtain visas for Russians, Poles or Ukrainians

W G. Shearer, U.S immigration official here, said Canadians or British subjects leaving Vancouver ... ship at San Francisco or New York obtain visas more easily.

"We have always strictly investigated foreigners" he said. "If the person is financially responsible and unlikely to become a charge on the U.S Government and is not a known Communist, no difficulty is experienced."

New Cunard Freighter Reaches Eastern Port

Marine News

HALIFAX, Jan. 16.—The newest Cunard-White Star freighter, Arabia, which left Liverpool on her maiden voyage late last week, was due to arrive here today. After discharging part of her cargo here, the ship, which ranks as one of the world's most modern cargo liners, will continue on to Saint John, N B.

Like her sister-ship, the Asia, which holds the Liverpool-Montreal crossing record for cargo liners, the 8,730-ton Arabia will operate in the Canada-United Kingdom service The Asia's mark of six days, 18 hours to Montreal was set last July, three months after her maiden voyage. Last month she chalked up another record when she carried the greatest amount of mail ever put aboard a single ship bound from Canada to Britain.

Embodying the most modern features of cargo-ship design, the Arabia has a length, between perpendiculars, of 480 feet, a beam of 63 feet 9 inches and a moulded depth of 34 feet. A slightly curved clipper stem and a cruiser stern contribute a distinctive appearance to the ship, which is of the three-island type, having bridge, poop and forecastle deck erections, with two pole masts and a single funnel.

The Arabia is designed to carry more than 8,000 tons of cargo at a service speed of 16 knots Refrigerating plant and insulated cargo spaces, which have a capacity of 130,000 cubic feet, are among the largest fitted in any Cunard White Star ship and will make an important contribution to the transportation of meats and perishable foods from Canada All 16 cargo winches are electrically operated, and the six hatchways are amply served by 21 derricks arranged to facilitate quick loading and discharge

The propelling machinery, which is compactly arranged to occupy the least possible space, consists of double reduction geared turbines driving a single bronze screw. All essential auxiliaries are electrically operated, so that at sea, steam is used for propulsion only. Safety devices of the Arabia include extensive fire-detecting and extinguishing systems, radar of the latest type, direction finder, gyro compass and visigraph echo sounder.

The sleek new Arabia is the second ship of that name in the Cunard fleet The first sailed from Liverpool on her maiden voyage 96 years ago, the last wooden Cunarder and the first of the fleet to boast a children's playroom. The original Arabia was of 2,400 tons, brig-rigged and with two funnels

Radar Ships

Two United States radar picket destroyers—the Rogers and the Duncan—arrived in Vancouver yesterday on a week-end visit from San Diego.

The ships carry more radar than any other vessels in the U.S. Navy They have an extra radar mast aft, and because of additional equipment are probably the first destroyers in the world that do not carry torpedoes.

A civic reception for the ships' officers will be given tomorrow by Vancouver City Council. Tickets to basketball, hockey games and theatres await the shore leave of the crews.

Announcement of the new station was made by B M Brennan, director of the International Pacific Sockeye Salmon Commission, following a three-day meeting here.

Milo Moore, director of fisheries for the State of Washington, will succeed A L. Hager of Vancouver as commission chairman Mr. Hager died today.
